Former Terminator Patrick takes on a bold new challenge

Cover story

By John Crook

TVDATA FEATURES WRITER

Robert Patrick is wearing asbestos underwear these days.

"Every now and then, my wife will come into my office from visiting (an Internet) chat room and say, 'Boy, some of these people really hate you!' " says the actor, who joins the cast of "The X-Files" Sunday, Nov. 5, on Fox.

And "these people" are the X-Philes, rabid fans who are not entirely enchanted that the erstwhile star of "Terminator 2: Judgment Day" is joining the cult hit, because Patrick's character, agent John Doggett, is intended to take up the slack left by the missing-in-action Fox Mulder (David Duchovny). Mulder, of course, was abducted by aliens as part of Duchovny's agreement to appear in less than half of this season's episodes.

Factor in rumors that Doggett may be a future romantic interest for agent Dana Scully (Gillian Anderson) and you begin to understand why Patrick is just one step away from hiring a food taster.

"But you know what? That's fine with me," Patrick says during a recent break in filming. "I don't care if the fans love John Doggett or hate him, just as long as they react to him somehow. One of the first things (series creator) Chris Carter said to me was, 'Um, it may take the fans a while to warm up to you, because you're a new character in an existing world.'

"I understand how the fans feel, but my character is not, nor has it ever been, intended to replace David. But Chris and Frank (Spotnitz, another executive producer on the show) want to keep the show going (after Duchovny leaves), and they see John Doggett as an exciting new way to do that," Patrick says.

"So I can state my case, but I'm working 80 hours a week here, and I can't really do anything about (fan attitudes). It's sink or swim time for me, buddy."

And Patrick is one guy who knows a thing or two about sink-or-swim situations. A native of the Atlanta suburb of Marietta, Ga., the 40-year-old actor says seeing his first movie, "A Boy Ten Feet Tall," inspired him to consider acting as a career.

"There was just something about that whole experience that just fired my imagination," he recalls, "the notion that you could do something that has such a powerful mass effect on an audience. After that, I did a few plays, like "Peter Pan" in the third grade, but I couldn't really find the right focus."

Flash forward to 1984, when a boating accident on Lake Erie nearly claimed Patrick's life.

"That was a wake-up call that I needed very badly," he says. "I was metaphorically drowning already in my life, with no motivation at all about getting serious about acting. But I was scared when I thought I was going to drown, and angry, because I realized I had been wasting my life. Not long after that, I headed to California and got serious about my work."

Things really started to click for Patrick in 1991 when James Cameron cast him as the ultimate killing machine in "Terminator 2: Judgment Day." Ironically, playing an emotionless robot posed one of the biggest acting challenges Patrick ever had confronted.

"Cameron and I talked about this at length from the very beginning and he stressed that I had to project this aura of sheer menace," the actor says. "Frankly, I was a little worried that I wouldn't be able to pull it off, because I didn't have the level of confidence that I have some 50 jobs later.

Hatcher, Long just acting like lovebirds

Teri Hatcher
SUPERMAN

By Taylor Michaels
TVDATA FEATURES WRITER

Pipeline

Are Teri Hatcher and Howie Long an item? Those Radio Shack ads sure seem to suggest that. -Michael Wall, Cataula, Ga.

Like James Garner and Mariette Hartley in those famous Polaroid commercials of yore, Hatcher and Long are a couple only in front of the camera. Both are married to other people.

Being out of touch in Europe, I wondered whatever became of Thomas Haden Church of "Wings" and the underrated "Ned and Stacey." -B.S. in Germany.

Church, 40, has worked in at least two movies a year since "Ned and Stacey" was canceled in 1997. Unfortunately, apart from Disney's "George of the Jungle" and a Dean Koontz TV movie called "Mr. Murder," most of them have sunk without a trace.

Church recently earned good reviews in a superhero spoof called "The Specials," which is in limited release at this writing. He also continues to lend his voice to Icehouse beer commercials.

When and why did The Nashville Network become The National Network? -Faybienne Geenhuizen, Concord, N.C.

The name change, which was announced on Sept. 19, was merely the final confirmation of a change that has been in the works since TNN was absorbed by MTV Networks earlier this year following a merger between Viacom Inc. and CBS Corp.

Many Pipeline readers already noticed and complained that the channel was dropping country music-themed programming in favor of wrestling and sports shows. Network officials have confirmed that they want to attract a younger, more diverse audience, although they plan to retain some country shows, including the Grand Ole Opry series, for the time being.

Sunday's Best Bets

Movie: The Growing Pains Movie

6 p.m. on ABC

The stars of the late family sitcom are back in a new TV movie that catches up with Jason and Maggie Seaver (Alan Thicke, Joanna Kerns) in Washington, D.C., where he's a psychologist and author, and she's working as a publicist for a politician. When she loses her job, she decides to go after a bigger one — congresswoman — with help from Jason and the kids, financial whiz Carol, executive Mike, struggling entrepreneur Ben and brilliant high-schooler Chrissy (Tracey Gold, Kirk Cameron, Jeremy Miller, Ashley Johnson). Chelsea Noble, Cameron's real-life spouse, plays Mike's wife.

Women of the WCW

7 p.m. on E!

Pro wrestling used to be a man's world, with women mostly relegated to window-dressing roles. That's all changed, as you'll see in this special. It focuses on three female stars of World Championship Wrestling — Torrie Wilson, Paisley and Ms. Hancock — in and out of the ring and visits the WCW training center in Atlanta where new superstars are made. Todd Newton, host of the channel's "Coming Attractions," throws himself into hosting the special, taking a turn in the ring with another female WCW star, Midajah.

Dana Carvey
SNL'S PRESIDENTIAL BASH

SNL's Presidential Bash

8 p.m. on NBC

Gerald Ford was president when "Saturday Night Live" made its debut, and Chevy Chase's klutzy impersonation of the man was a favorite bit. Twenty-five years and four administrations later, the granddaddy of all satirical shows still regularly pokes fun at presidents past and present. Remember Dan Aykroyd's beetle-browed Richard Nixon and mushmouthed Jimmuh Carter? Dana Carvey's George Bush? Phil Hartman's Bill Clinton? Two days before the election of a new commander in chief, the series showcases some of those classic sketches and has some fun with the current race, with Darrell Hammond as Al Gore and Will Ferrell as George W. Bush.

The X-Files

8 p.m. on FOX

The wait is over as the surreal series starts a new season with "Within," the opener of a two-part tale. Pregnant Scully begins a frantic search for Mulder (David Duchovny) who disappeared under mysterious — possibly otherworldly — circumstances. She has help from John Doggett (Robert Patrick), a new agent with little patience for the paranormal. Part 2 airs next Sunday.

Shepherd is an open book

By Lorri Antosz Benson
TVDATA FEATURES WRITER

According to insiders, Cybill Shepherd is having a blast hosting the new fall gabfest "Men Are From Mars, Women Are From Venus." She is especially pleased with some of the comments from the media and Hollywood community comparing her to talk pioneer Dinah Shore.

Perhaps it's the honest, open-book approach she brings to her show. She doesn't hide much about her own experiences, emotions, mistakes and opinions. She is very proud of her three children, twins Zack and Ariel and grown daughter Clementine. She always mentions them on the show and even brought them to the opening season parties.

Talk the Talk

Not that she was alone in making the party scene a family affair. Author John Gray, whose book "Men Are From Mars, Women Are From Venus" was the inspiration for the show, brought his wife and teen-age daughter to some of the parties as well. This was a fun perk for all, since it included the thrill of meeting all the Sony talent, especially the Divine Miss M herself, Bette Midler. Midler's TV show, "Bette," premiered last month.

Shepherd made another "steamy" personal admission on an episode that airs this month. She has made it no secret that she would love to have former co-star Bruce Willis as a guest on her show. On this particular program, she reveals she has a specific sexual fantasy about him.

Ever the entertainer, Shepherd has few inhibitions when it comes to singing, often breaking into song during commercial breaks. In fact, she wrote a tune that she offered for the theme song, and although producer Merv Griffin and show honchos opted for a different song, she's happy to sing it any time for journalists.

Cybill Shepherd

Speaking of Griffin, he's got more than his name involved in this project. Word is he's very much a hands-on executive producer, often on the set and in the control room.

Remembered best for being one of the first in the talk show genre, he hosted "The Merv Griffin Show" from 1962-86. He then moved behind the scenes, creating a game show empire that includes chart-toppers "Jeopardy!" and "Wheel of Fortune." Griffin was honored last month with the National Association of Television Program Executives' Creative Achievement Award.

Biography

7 p.m. on A&E

"Presidential Candidates: George W. Bush & Al Gore" is a two-hour profile of the Republican governor of Texas and the Democratic vice president, who, despite their political differences, have remarkably similar backgrounds.

Hidden Victims: Children of Domestic Violence

7 p.m. on LIFE

A wife-beater may never lay a hand on his children in anger, but his actions still have a drastic impact on their lives. In this special, four families that have been there, along with several experts who are helping them, discuss what domestic violence does to children and how the cycle of abuse can be stopped before they suffer permanent damage. Actor Dylan McDermott ("The Practice") hosts.

NFL Football

8 p.m. on ABC

This could be the last stand for the Green Bay Packers as they attempt to stay within striking distance of the playoffs when they host division rival Minnesota. Once dominant at home, Brett Favre and the Pack have already lost two games in Green Bay and face a brutal schedule down the stretch. The Vikings have been one of the league's surprise teams thus far, thanks in part to running back Robert Smith. The former Ohio State Buckeye became the Vikes' all-time leading rusher earlier this season, passing Chuck Foreman.

Ally McBeal

8 p.m. on FOX

It's raining men for Ally (Calista Flockhart) in "Two's a Crowd." But she's not singing, "Hallelujah"; she's too busy trying to juggle her social schedule. She'd just taken up with an attractive older man when a young hunk entered her life; unwilling to give up either one, she's trying frantically to keep seeing them both. Back at the office, Ling and Nelle (Lucy Liu, Portia de Rossi) represent an unhappy client of a doctor (guest star Florence Henderson) whose "How to Satisfy Your Man" workshop proved unsatisfactory.

The Hughleys

8 p.m. on UPN

Even though his home has been designated the local polling place, thanks to Yvonne (Elise Neal), Darryl (D.L. Hughley) declares he'll sit out this election. That is, until he discovers an issue that blows him away. It turns out there's a proposal on the ballot to ban leaf blowers, and Darryl jumps at the chance to silence Dave's annoying piece of equipment once and for all.

Tuesday's Best Bets

Wild Discovery

6 p.m. on DISC

The latest installment in the show's "Wild Asia" series, "Temperate Forests" chronicles the changing seasons in a Japanese woodland. One of its more unusual denizens is a bush that appears to have the change-of-seasons routine backward; it loses its leaves in the summer and gets them back in winter.

Election Returns

7 p.m. on FOX FNC FOX FNC

Fox was the only one of the big four broadcast networks to pass on all three presidential debates, leaving them to its sister cable channel Fox News. But it's not about to sit out the big night. Brit Hume and Paula Zahn co-anchor the election night coverage from New York, keeping you posted on who's ahead in all the big races, including, of course, the one that ends at the White House. President Bill Clinton has a lot of rooting to do this night — for his vice president, Al Gore, to win the presidency and for his wife, Hillary Rodham Clinton, to win her bid for the U.S. Senate from New York state.

NBA Basketball

7 p.m. on TBS

TBS projects a winner and a loser at the Bradley Center in Milwaukee when the Bucks play host to the New York Knicks. Without an offensive center on either roster, both teams use a talented set of guards and forwards to provide points. The Knicks tandem of Glen Rice, Allan Houston and Latrell Sprewell is as good as any in the NBA, while the Bucks counter with guards Sam Cassell and Ray Allen and smooth-shooting forward Glenn Robinson.

American Justice

8 p.m. on A&E

Aileen Wuornos, sent to death row in 1992 for a yearlong robbery and murder spree that claimed seven victims, wasn't the first female serial killer, but she was the first to fit the predator profile characteristic of the breed. "Death Row Prostitute: Aileen Wuornos," chronicles the childhood abuse and adult struggles that propelled Wuornos into prostitution and murder.

Movie: Chippendales Murder

8 p.m. on USA

Naveen Andrews ("The English Patient") and Paul Hipp star as entrepreneur Steve Banerjee and choreographer Nick Denoia, who made ogling an equal-opportunity event with their celebrated Chippendales male dance revue in the 1970s and '80s. As the drama recounts, all does not go smoothly for the pair. Banerjee's obsession with eliminating the competition leads him into arson, and conflicts within the partnership lead to murder.

Wednesday's Best Bets

Bette

7 p.m. on CBS

In "Two Days at a Time," Bette (Bette Midler) is thrilled when Oprah Winfrey (guest starring as herself) invites her to be an "Oprah's Book Club" panelist. There's just one little problem: She's too busy to read the book that's being discussed. But no way is she going to pass up this gig; she'll fake her way through it. Joanna Gleason and Kevin Dunn also star.

Titans

7 p.m. on NBC

In "Bad Will Hunting," Heather (Yasmine Bleeth) pulls out all the stops to keep her hand in the company despite Peter's (John Barrowman) best efforts to push her out. Richard's brother, Jack (Jack Wagner, "Melrose Place"), becomes the firm's new chief executive officer, while on the home front, Jenny (Elizabeth Bogush) unloads her grief on David (Ingo Rademacher), opening the door to deeper things. Victoria Principal also stars.

Dawson's Creek

7 p.m. on WB

Andie (Meredith Monroe) learns firsthand the dangers of illegal drugs — especially when mixed with legal ones — in "Great Xpectations." Taking the "party drug" Ecstasy on top of her anti-depressant medication creates a cocktail in her system that could kill her — unless Dawson (James Van Der Beek) and the gang act fast.

Biography

7 p.m. on A&E

Heavyweight champ George Foreman lost more than his title to Muhammad Ali in 1974; he lost his pride. After all, Foreman was only 25, and Ali was approaching over-the-hill status at 32. But 20 years later, he was the aging long shot who could ... and he did, defeating Michael Moorer and claiming the heavyweight title once more. That's one of the great moments revisited in "George Foreman: Blow by Blow," a chronicle of the 1968 Olympic champion's life and career from his impoverished childhood as one of seven children to his current status as millionaire, preacher, businessman, youth mentor and father of his own huge brood.

Napoleon

8 p.m. on PBS

Filmmaker David Grubin, who has won multiple awards for his profiles of U.S. Presidents Lyndon Johnson, Harry Truman, and Theodore and Franklin Roosevelt, turns his lens on another larger-than-life leader. The two-part documentary on the life and accomplishments of Napoleon Bonaparte uses extensive location footage from Europe and Egypt, dramatic battle re-enactments, and the words of the man himself, including his letters to the lovely Josephine.

Thursday's Best Bets

Battle of the Child Geniuses: Who Is the Smartest Kid in America? No. 2

7 p.m. on FOX

Didn't last spring's "Battle" answer the question in the title? Or will the winner of this contest eventually face Michael Jezierny, 11-year-old champ from the May special, to determine which "smartest kid" is smarter? This time, 40 sharp youngsters between 10 and 12 years old start the competition, getting quizzed on geography, spelling, math, critical thinking and other subjects, with the top 16 advancing to the next round. They'll be divided into two teams of eight and subjected to more questions, then the top finishers on each team face off. Dick Clark hosts the two-hour special.

Gilmore Girls

7 p.m. on WB

Emily (Kelly Bishop) means well when she hosts a birthday party for Rory (Alexis Bledel), but the guest of honor isn't pleased with the turnout. A number of Chilton schoolmates she doesn't particularly like have been dragged there by their parents. After letting Grandma know in no uncertain terms how unhappy she is, she tries to make up for the outburst by inviting the grandparents to her other celebration, a no-holds-barred bash being hosted by Lorelai (Lauren Graham). Edward Herrmann also stars in "Rory's Birthday Parties."

NBA Basketball

7 p.m. on TNT MSC

The Philadelphia 76ers and Minnesota Timberwolves, two teams that look to make the next step after bowing out in the first round of the playoffs, meet tonight in Minneapolis. Each possesses an unquestioned superstar — Kevin Garnett for the 'Wolves and Allen Iverson for the Sixers — whom their teammates look to at crunch time. Both came through last season in the eyes of NBA voters. Garnett was named to the All-NBA First Team and Defensive First Team, and Iverson was tabbed for the All-NBA Second Team.

Diagnosis Murder

9 p.m. on CBS

Mark (Dick Van Dyke) thinks it must be the drugs when Steve (Barry Van Dyke), recovering from an accident, claims he saw a murder in his hospital room. But it may not have been a hallucination after all. There are some strange circumstances surrounding the death of another patient — including the fact that the man's wife and his doctor (Heidi Mark, Raphael Sbarge) both had reasons for wanting him dead. Victoria Rowell also stars in "The Patient Detective."

Friday's Best Bets

Movie: Phantom of the Megaplex

6 p.m. on DISN

Weird things are happening at a 26-screen movie theater as its grand opening gala approaches. The popcorn machine and one of the projectors are going haywire, for starters. It could be just the mechanical equivalent of opening-night jitters ... or it could be a legendary ghost working its mischief. This is a Disney family flick, so of course, it's a group of kids, led by teen-age theater employee Peter Riley (Taylor Handley, "Jack Frost"), that gets to the bottom of the mystery. Caitlin Wachs ("Profiler," "My Dog Skip"), Jacob Smith ("Party of Five") and Mickey Rooney also star.

Two Guys and a Girl

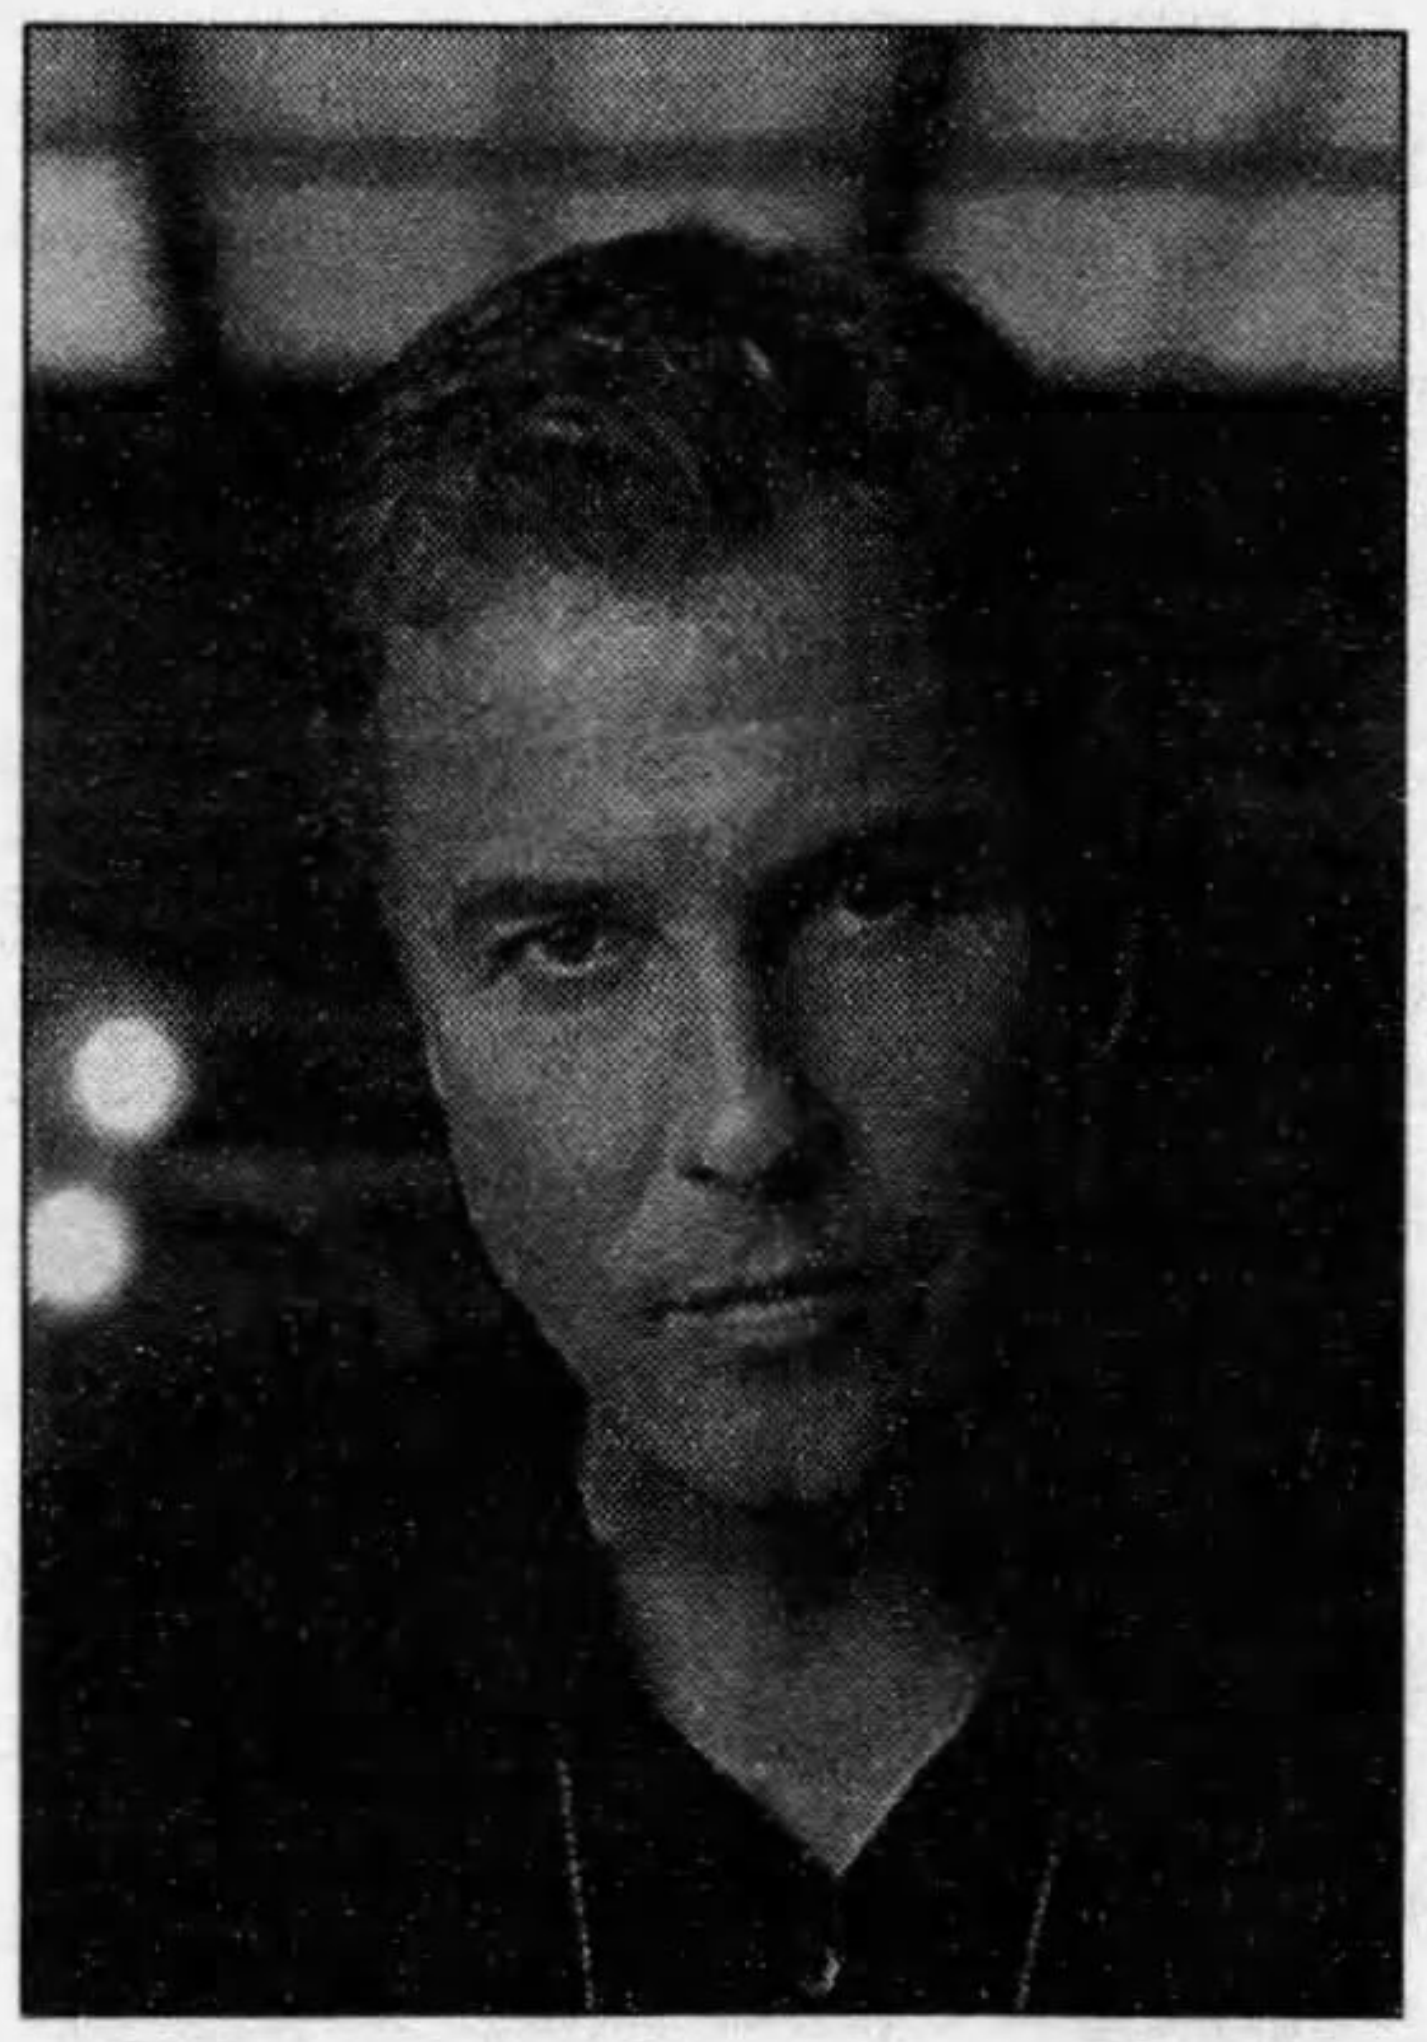
7 p.m. on ABC

Don't turn away from your TV or you may miss a key piece of this sweeps-month stunt called "The One Without Dialogue." Keeping silent all the while, Pete (Richard Ruccolo) meets a beautiful woman on the subway, Sharon (Traylor Howard) loses her wedding ring, Berg (Ryan Reynolds) takes a public bath, and Ashley (Suzanne Cryer) attracts a crowd of unusual stalkers. Nathan Fillion also stars.

Providence

7 p.m. on NBC

In "Rescue Me," Sydney (Melina Kanakaredes) offers to fix a poor illegal immigrant boy's cleft palate for free, but it's a tricky procedure, and she's starting to have second thoughts about her ability to pull it off. Robbie is also trying to be charitable, extending a helping hand to the troubled Andi, but she rebuffs his aid and continues on her downward spiral.



William Petersen
CSI: CRIME SCENE INVESTIGATION

Biography

7 p.m. on A&E

"Redd Foxx: Say It Like It Is" remembers the comic who honed his craft in all-black clubs and won a mixed-race fan base with his often raunchy but always clever observations of the human condition. He hit superstardom not with stand-up, however, but with his portrayal of a curmudgeonly junkman in TV's "Sanford and Son."

CSI: Crime Scene Investigation

8 p.m. on CBS

A plumber makes a grisly discovery in the basement of a house — a young woman's body — and Grissom and Nick (William Petersen, George Eads) go to work on finding out who she is and who could have killed her. Warrick and Sara (Gary Dourdan, Jorja Fox) have a tough case of their own: a shooting in which a witness claims a police officer was the killer. And crime comes close to home for Catherine (Marg Helgenberger) when her ex-husband is charged with rape.

Movie: Eraser

7 p.m. on NBC

They call U.S. Marshal John Kruger (Arnold Schwarzenegger) the Eraser because his specialty is protecting witnesses — erasing their old identities to keep them safe from retaliation by those they're testifying against. On his current assignment, however, he could be the one who gets rubbed out. He's protecting a woman (Vanessa L. Williams) who's blown the whistle on her employer's scam involving a military weapons contract. And he might be able to hide her from the man who wants her dead, but he's a very visible target. James Caan, James Coburn and Robert Pastorelli also star in this 1996 action drama produced and directed by Charles Russell ("The Mask," "Bless the Child").

Biography

7 p.m. on A&E

"John J. Pershing: The Iron General" remembers the consummate military man of the early 20th century. Nicknamed Black Jack while commanding an African-American cavalry unit in the 1890s, he was an early champion of equal rights in the military. Strategy was not his strong suit, but he was instrumental in winning World War I through sheer numbers, building the U.S. Army from 128,000 to millions. The profile includes interviews with military historians, authors and veterans.

AMERICA FIGHTS BACK

America's Most Wanted: America Fights Back

8 p.m. on FOX

"Littlest Heroes" salutes the youngest soldiers in the war on crime, including a girl who helped bring a serial killer to justice and an 11-year-old boy who did the same with a child rapist. Also profiled are a real-life Superboy who saved his mother from a bullet and a young slashing victim who fought the pain of her injuries to go for help. John Walsh hosts.

Movie: American Beauty

8 p.m. on HBO

Some found this 1999 comedy-drama brilliant, others found it disgusting, and the Academy found it worthy of five Oscars, including best picture. Kevin Spacey took home the best actor trophy for his portrayal of a middle-aged man having the granddaddy of all midlife crises. An attack of the hots for his teen-age daughter's cheerleader friend (Mena Suvari) and a few lessons — and drugs — from a free-spirited young neighbor (Wes Bentley) give him a new lease on life — a short-term one, unfortunately. Annette Bening and Thora Birch also star.

Cable in the Classroom scores with teachers and students

By John Crook

TVDATA FEATURES WRITER

At first, the juxtaposition between image and setting is jarring.

That's definitely CNN newsman Tom Haynes on the TV screen recounting the latest tensions in the Middle East, but a few inches away stands a white teddy bear, not to mention a chart showing the cursive alphabet stretching from wall to wall. In the opposite corner of the room, a handsome homemade castle stands silent sentry.

Blink, check again and yes, that's Haynes, and yes, this is a third-grade classroom in suburban Atlanta. And, yes, its students are mesmerized as they listen to stories about the Mideast, about the upcoming presidential election, about the ever-swelling tide of immigrants to U.S. shores and other complexities of modern life.

Welcome to J.H. House Elementary School, a small facility in Rockdale County where Cable in the Classroom (CIC) energizes both the faculty and the student body. As the teachers are inclined to point out, it's not an especially affluent school, nor are its students all gifted. In fact, they hail from a diverse spectrum of families, here in a Georgia county that is still stinging from a 1999 PBS "Frontline" documentary about area youth at risk titled "The Lost Children of Rockdale County."

But the kids are all right at J.H. House, where an 11-year-old cable initiative is boosting the thinking skills of the students.

Started by the cable industry in 1989, CIC provides U.S. public and private schools with free access to educational programming ranging from Turner Learning's "CNN Newsroom" with Shelley Walcott and Rudi Bakhtiar to Bill Kurtis' "The New Explorers" from the A&E Network. Today, 39 national cable networks and 8,500 local cable companies spend more than $2 million a week on this public service accessed by 81,000 schools.

Anne Davis, instructional technology specialist at J.H. House Elementary School, says she began to ponder the value of a show like "Newsroom" when she became increasingly concerned that many students had almost no practical knowledge about the world around them.

"And not just about the greater world at large. They wouldn't know who their governor was or much about the state in general," Davis says. "I knew they needed a way to make connections in order to learn, and they needed facts to make those connections."

Five years ago, Davis initiated a pilot program with a third-grade teacher who introduced "Newsroom" to her students. At first, the students felt overwhelmed by the sheer volume of alien information in the half-hour CNN program, but after a month they started making connections.

At the end of the year, she was so sold on how much it had improved the thinking skills of the children that she "got up in front of the faculty and actually cried when she told them about it," Davis says. "I know it sounds hokey, but it really is true."

"Using the news as a component of our curriculum lets us teach how to solve real-life problems instead of made-up ones, and help our students become global citizens," says Ann Leonard, the visionary principal at J.H. House who gave the green light to using "Newsroom" for the student body at large, although Davis screens all episodes in advance for anything that might be controversial.

Daly starred in "Almost Grown"

Pipeline

By Taylor Michaels
TVDATA FEATURES WRITER

Please help me with any information you may have about a late '80s series starring one of my favorites, Tim Daly. The very first episode featured him as a college disc jockey. -Alma D., Boynton Beach, Fla.

Alma, you're thinking of "Almost Grown," a CBS drama that lasted only two months in the winter of 1988-89. Daly played Norman Foley, the program director of a rock radio station, who was recently divorced from his high-school sweetheart, Suzie (Eve Gordon). Music was a key element in the series. At least once an episode, either Norman or Suzie would hear an oldie and be transported via flashback to an important personal event associated with that song.

My friend, who is right about everything else, insists that former "Today" host Dave Garroway is still alive. I am almost certain that he committed suicide several years ago. Can you clarify? -R. Stauffer, Bonita Springs, Fla.

Sadly, you are correct: Garroway committed suicide on July 21, 1982, eight days after his 69th birthday.

"Rocky & Bullwinkle" used to include a cartoon about a turtle that always wanted to be something else until a wizard granted his wish to teach him a lesson. Was the turtle's name Tutor? -Connie Blaney in Pana, Ill.

You're very close. Tooter the Turtle, who was rescued each time by Lizard the Wizard, first appeared on "King Leonardo and His Short Subjects," a 1960-63 NBC cartoon series.

Some of my friends and I are trying to remember the name of an old series with Monte Markham as a man who had been found frozen in ice, which made him appear to be about the same age as his descendant. What was it? -Stan Gillespie, Heidelberg, Germany.

In "The Second Hundred Years" (ABC 1967-68), Markham played both Luke Carpenter, a prospector flash-frozen in a 1900 avalanche, and his 33-year-old grandson, Ken, who was understandably stunned when Gramps miraculously thawed out, unharmed, and entered his life.

Passions

Julian told Grace that Sam and Ivy were lovers. A tax man informed Tabitha that she owed 300 years of real estate taxes. Ethan assured an overjoyed Theresa that he still loved her. Timmy tried to convince Tabitha to write a book. Theresa began to suspect Gwen was playing dirty. Chad confronted Kay about the rumors she had been spreading around town. Hecuba offered to help Kay in exchange for her soul.

Next week: Whitney apologizes to Chad but it isn't enough for him.

Port Charles

Eve and Ian tried to ignore their attraction to each other. Alison and Jamal vowed to uncover what Amanda was hiding. Kevin held off telling Livvie about Ryan. Lucy physically attacked Rachel in an unexpected confrontation.

Next week: Rachel endangers Kevin's life.

The Young and the Restless

Phyllis covered for Brittany when Billy questioned her about the night of the photo shoot. Matt drugged Tricia and made her believe they had slept together. Billy asked Brittany to be his date for Ashley's wedding. Tomas learned one of his books might be made into a film. Paul and Chris tried to get their relationship back on track.

Next week: Ashley begins to feel strange.

Sunday's Best Bets

Movie: The Miracle Worker
6 p.m. on ABC

Eight-year-old Hallie Kate Eisenberg, best known for speaking and singing in unlikely voices in those Pepsi ads, plays her biggest role yet — and it's a nonspeaking part. She stars as young Helen Keller in this new remake of the Tony-winning play, which first came to the screen in 1962 and won two Oscars. Alison Elliott ("The Spitfire Grill") plays Annie Sullivan, the young teacher who opens deaf and blind Helen's mind and heart with the gift of language. David Strathairn ("L.A. Confidential," "Dolores Claiborne") and Lucas Black ("Sling Blade," "American Gothic") also star.

The Simpsons
7 p.m. on FOX

Drew Barrymore lends her voice to Sophie, a new acquaintance of Bart's who turns out to be the long-lost daughter of Krusty the Klown. Bart engineers the father and child reunion, and Krusty jumps into the daddy role with both oversized feet. But the parenting tips he gets from Homer are missing a crucial one: Never lose your child's most precious possession in a poker game.

Palm Beach: Money, Power and Privilege
7 p.m. on A&E

You don't have to come from "old money" to hang out in Palm Beach, Fla., but you definitely need money. This two-hour special takes a peek inside one of the nation's most exclusive cities, a winter playground for the rich and famous where almost 90 percent of the people are millionaires, and even after factoring in the wages of the working folk, the median income is still a cool quarter million. Despite the presence over the years of such famous faces as Burt Reynolds, Donald Trump, Rush Limbaugh and the Kennedys, Palm Beach gets very little media attention, thanks to local laws designed to keep the press out. The special includes interviews with the editor of "Palm Beach Society" magazine, the author of a book about the city and a lawyer who has battled anti-Semitism in the exclusive enclave.

Alec Baldwin
WHO WANTS TO BE A MILLIONAIRE

Who Wants to Be a Millionaire
8 p.m. on ABC

Don't look for Ray Romano to pay Reege a return visit in this latest celebrity "Millionaire" outing. ABC's rival networks say they're not banning their stars from appearing on the hit game show, but they've pointed out that such a gig would be a game of "Who wants to help the competition?" And it is sweeps month, after all. Stars who are slated to play this week include ABC's own Charlie Sheen, Drew Carey, Norm Macdonald and Joy Behar; cable's Jon Stewart ("The Daily Show"); and the currently unaffiliated Alec Baldwin, Jon Lovitz, Tyra Banks and Sean "Puffy" Combs.

Redecorate the day with HGTV

By Lorri Antosz Benson

TVDATA FEATURES WRITER

If you've had your fill of shows featuring sisters sleeping with their brothers-in-law or mothers who dress like their sons, check out Home & Garden Television.

Approaching its sixth anniversary, HGTV is one of the fastest-growing networks in the world.

You won't find traditional talk fare here. HGTV is about how-to shows, focusing on gardening, building, crafts, decorating and lifestyle. The idea for the network came straight out of the personal life of Ken Lowe, president and CEO. Moving up the industry ladder, Lowe and his wife relocated from city to city, building or repairing home after home. As he'd get stuck on projects, he'd complain to his wife, "Why doesn't somebody do more television programming in this area?"

He finally pitched the idea by drawing a house in which every room, from attic to wine cellar, was a TV show. To his surprise, he got $75 million to start up the network.

Talk the Talk

One of HGTV's favorite hosts, Maty Monfort, has a lot in common with the network's target audience: women at home. She believes her background in talk television (ABC's "Mike & Maty") prepared her well for her duties on HGTV's "Smart Solutions."

Monfort fondly remembers her stint in the mid-1990s with Mike Burger. "From the moment we met, Mike and I had great chemistry," she says.

"The show was unique in that we were not only the hosts, but the correspondents as well. I did everything from in-studio interviews and cooking segments to pulling 9Gs in an F-16 with the Air Force Thunderbirds."

Her current gig on the daily lifestyle program is very different from her former show, but it couldn't be a more perfect match. "When my son, Christopher, was born, my husband and I made the choice to not have help, for me stay home and do it myself," Monfort says, with her toddler making conversation in the background. "I was not looking for work at the time, but it's funny how things happen."

What happened was the perfect job offer: Shoot four to five shows Monday through Thursday for a month, then no work from anywhere between two and five months, then another month's work, and so on.

7th Heaven

7 p.m. on WB

Eric and Annie are forced to take a step no parent wants to take: turning their own child out of the house. But they see no other way after they discover Mary has stolen from the twins. They hope that sending her to the grandparents in Buffalo will kill two birds with one stone — protecting the family and putting her back on the straight and narrow. But nobody's expecting it to be easy as the clan gathers to break the news to her.

Biography

7 p.m. on A&E

"Randy Travis: Keeping the Tradition" profiles the North Carolina native who helped usher in a rebirth of traditional country music in the mid- and late 1980s. Raised on Hank Williams, Merle Haggard and other traditionalists, he was performing in his early teens with his older brother, but his budding music career was derailed by booze, drugs, fast cars and other adolescent distractions. He was facing a five-year jail sentence when a real-life guardian angel surfaced: club owner Elizabeth "Lib" Hatcher, who'd caught his act and thought he had potential. Young Travis was released in her custody, got his act together and eventually landed his first record deal. The next 15 years brought him a string of top 10 hits, numerous awards, marriage to his former guardian, and a growing resume of acting roles.

MONDAY NIGHT FOOTBALL

NFL Football

8 p.m. on ABC

An intriguing AFC West matchup closes Week 11 in the NFL when the Oakland Raiders visit the Denver Broncos. Entering last week's game against the Chiefs, the Raiders controlled the division with only one loss, in September against — guess who? — the Broncos. Oakland, led by quarterback Rich Gannon, will need to counteract the game plan of Mike Shanahan, who is 10-1 against his former club since becoming head coach of the Broncos. Denver QB Brian Griese was 21-for-31 with two touchdown passes in the first meeting.

The Tomb of the Warrior Prince

8 p.m. on DISC

The Burtama Valley in the former Soviet republic of Kazakhstan is home to an amazing piece of history: an ancient tomb containing the bodies of two well-preserved humans and a dozen horses with harnesses of gold. This special offers an unprecedented look at this incredible find, the final resting place of a prince who lived more than 2,000 years ago, when a civilization called the Sakas called the Kazakh steppes home.

Tuesday's Best Bets

Intimate Portrait

6 p.m. on LIFE

"Judith Krantz" gets personal with the author of "Princess Daisy," "Mistral's Daughter," "I'll Take Manhattan" and other steamy tales. Krantz, who worked as a magazine writer while raising two sons, hadn't attempted to write fiction since college and was convinced she couldn't. Her husband knew better and encouraged her to try. The result was her first novel, "Scruples," the first in a string of best sellers, many of which became TV miniseries. Valerie Bertinelli, who starred in the 1987 adaptation of "Manhattan," narrates the profile. It includes interviews with Krantz herself; her husband; friends; and a very special niece, Lamb Chop, whose creator, the late Shari Lewis, was Krantz's sister-in-law.

JAG

7 p.m. on CBS

In "The Princess and the Petty Officer," a noncom (Bailey Chase) is court-martialed for bringing his true love, an Arab princess (Kamala Lopez-Dawson), into the United States illegally to get married. While Harm (David James Elliott) defends the groom, Mac (Catherine Bell) goes to bat for the bride against the U.S. immigration authorities who want to deport her and the Islamic court that wants to mete out its own brand of punishment. Chegwidden (John M. Jackson) gets a blast from the past when he encounters his old SEAL training officer ("Survivor" alumnus Rudy Boesch as himself). Patrick Labyorteaux also stars.

Titus

7:30 p.m. on FOX

Frances Fisher ("Titanic," "True Crime") steps into the role of Titus' (Christopher Titus) mother in "Locking Up Mom." A competency hearing is being held at the mental hospital to determine whether she's ready to be released. Titus, though, isn't ready, so he makes an appearance at the hearing to argue in favor of keeping her in. But he has second thoughts when his dad (Stacy Keach) shows up. Cynthia Watros and Zack Ward also star.

Nova

8 p.m. on PBS

"Hitler's Lost Sub" chronicles the efforts of a team of divers to solve the mysteries surrounding a German U-boat discovered off the coast of New Jersey in 1991. How did it get there? How did it escape detection all those years? What sent it to its watery grave? And who was on it? It takes six years, and three divers lose their lives, but the answers finally surface. The two-hour program also provides some background on the German submarine service and interviews several surviving members.

In "The Portland Trip," President Bartlet (Martin Sheen) and several aides are headed west, while Leo (John Spencer) is keeping his eyes on the East — the Mideast, to be exact. A tanker believed to be smuggling oil has fired on the U.S. helicopters that have been dispatched to check it out. On the domestic front, Josh (Bradley Whitford) debates a proposed ban on same-sex marriage with a gay congressman (guest star Charley Lang). On the plane to Oregon, Toby (Richard Schiff) does some heavy editing of Sam's (Rob Lowe) education speech, and Charlie (Dule Hill) offers a radical suggestion for easing the teacher shortage. Allison Janney also stars.

THE WEST WING

The $treet

8 p.m. on FOX

In "High Yield Bonds," Sacker (Rick Hoffman) jumps at the chance to get his hands on the client list of a top trader (John Scurti) who's seriously ill. But the ailing man wants Sacker's hands on something else: his wife. His illness has left him unable to perform, and he begs Sacker to help the lady out. Catherine (Jennifer Connelly) goes all out to hire a hot prospect, a new asset manager (Dan Hedaya) who's great at his job but sexist to the core. Jack (Tom Everett Scott) meets a blond beauty who just might help him get over Alex's (Nina Garbiras) growing attraction to Mitchell (Adam Goldberg). Sean Maher also stars.

Felicity

8 p.m. on WB

On the heels of Felicity's (Keri Russell) frat-house liaison comes another betrayal of Ben (Scott Speedman), but this one isn't her fault. It's his father (John Ritter), who, upset over Ben's refusal to see him, comes on to her. Noel (Scott Foley) considers using some ill-gotten information in his pursuit of the lovely Jane (Tyra Banks). Tangi Miller also stars in "Kissing Mr. Covington."

Thursday's Best Bets

Movie: Cool Hand Luke

7 p.m. on AMC

What we've got here is the ultimate prison movie, which set the standard for the genre and earned Paul Newman an Oscar nomination for his portrayal of the title character, a rebellious World War II vet who lands on a chain gang for beheading some parking meters in a fit of rage. Newman didn't win, but George Kennedy took home the best supporting actor statuette for his performance as Luke's nemesis, the hulking Dragline. Strother Martin and Dennis Hopper also star in the 1967 drama, which also received Oscar nominations for its screenplay and score.

NBA Basketball

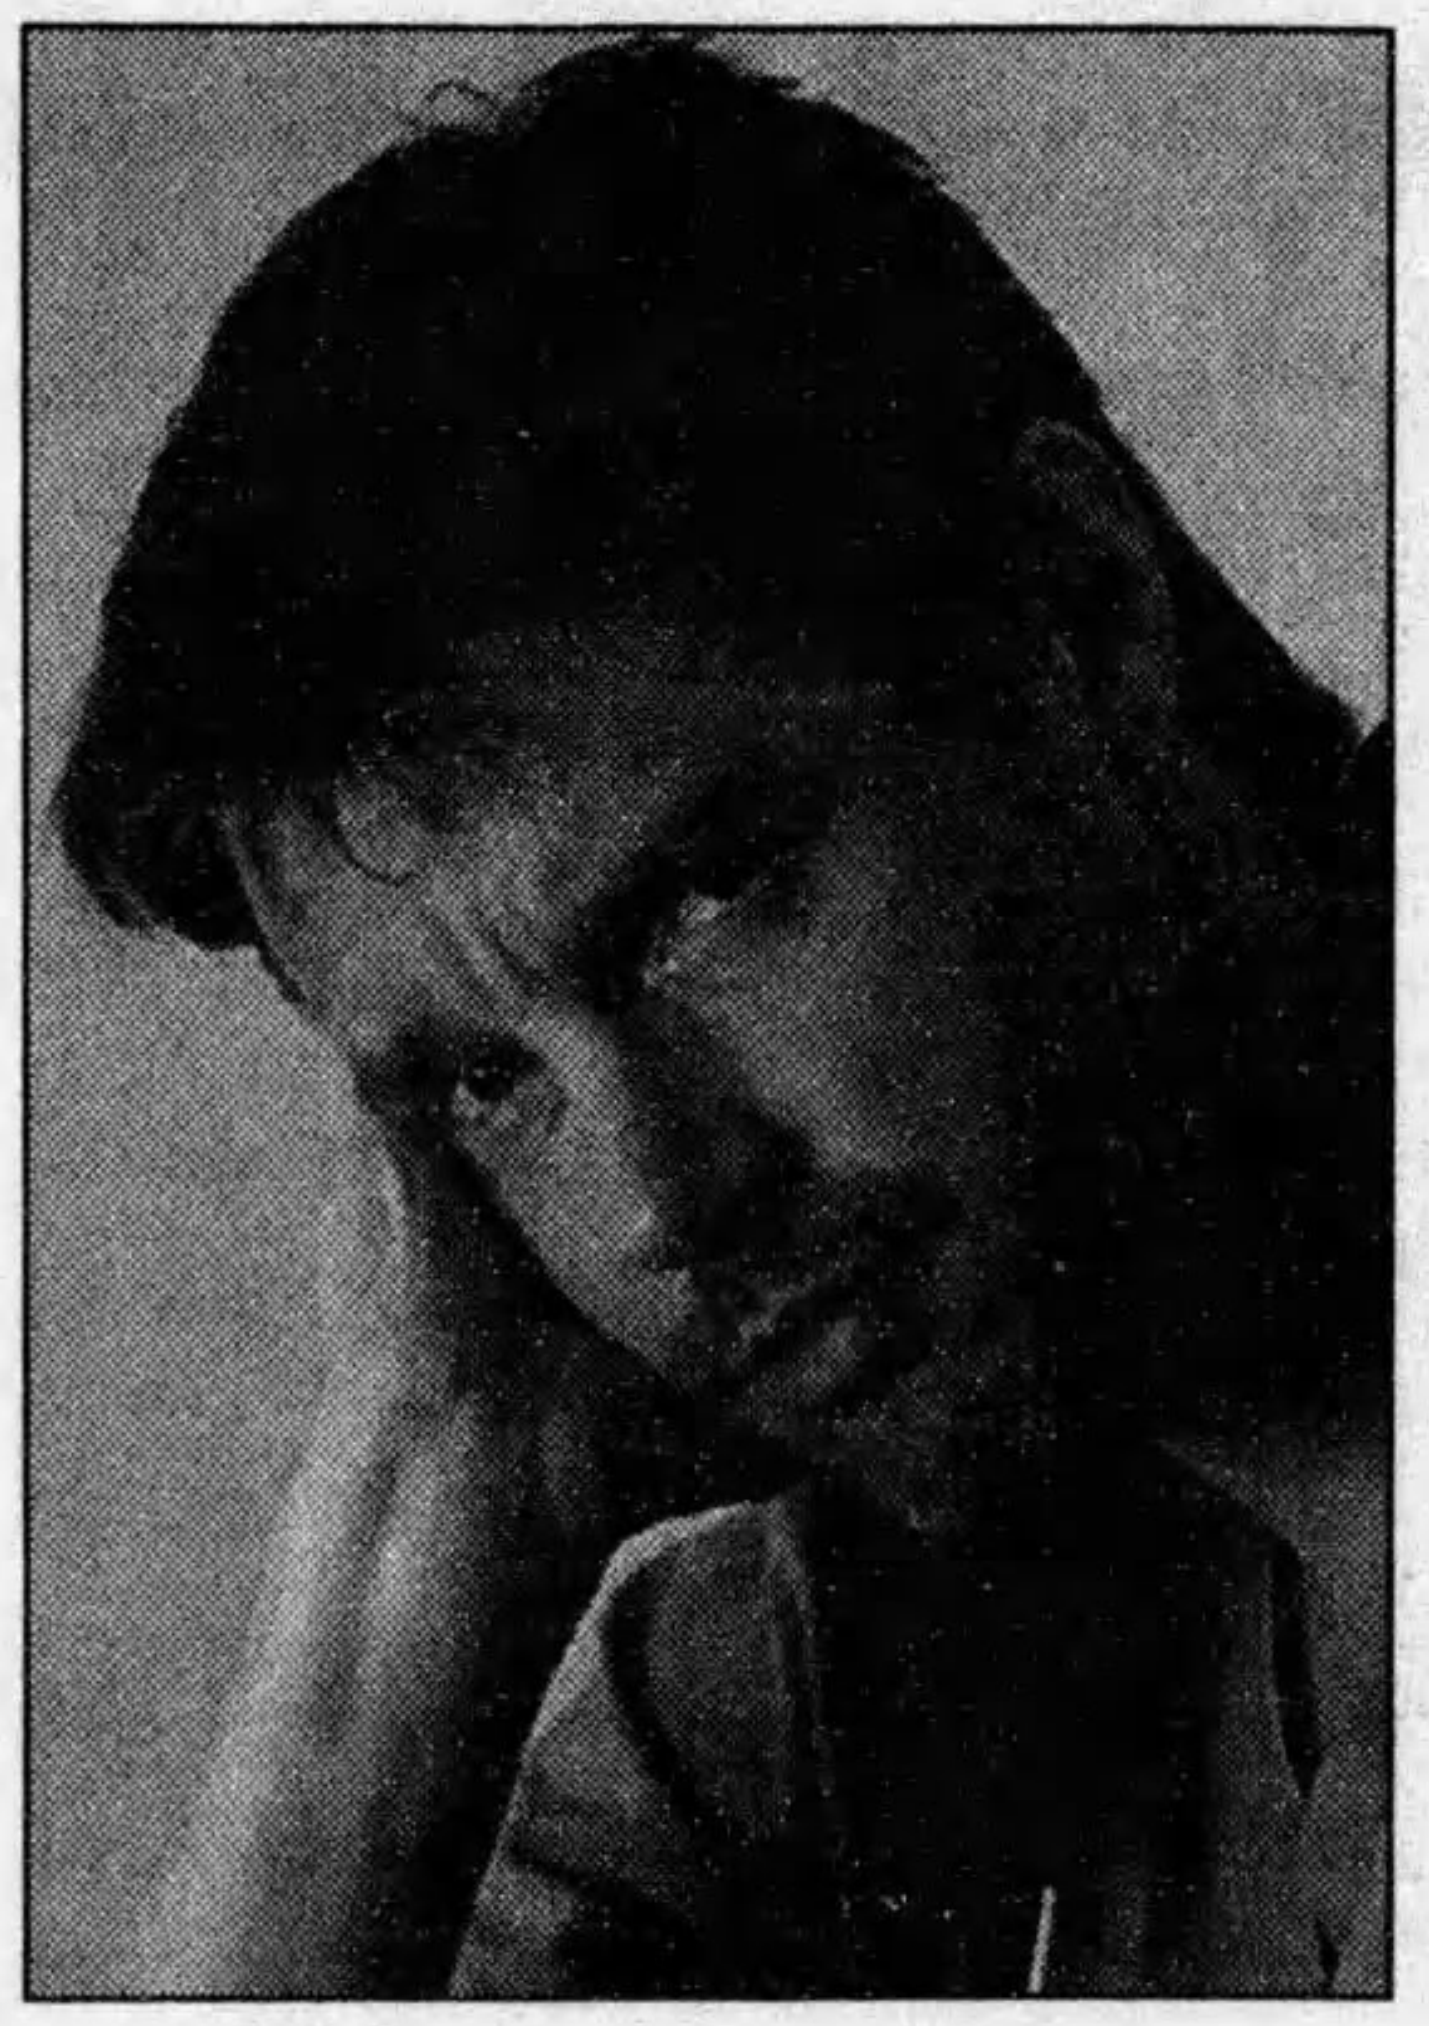
7 p.m. on TNT

The highlight package should be anything but dull when Pacific Division foes the Los Angeles Lakers and Sacramento Kings get together in Sacramento. The points should pile up via fast breaks culminated in rim-rocking dunks, with superstars Chris Webber, Kobe Bryant and Shaquille O'Neal running the floor.

Movie: Arlington Road

7 p.m. on MAX

A college professor (Jeff Bridges, "The Big Lebowski") becomes obsessed with studying terrorist groups after his wife, an FBI agent, is killed in an anti-terrorist operation. Just as he is beginning to get his life back in order, he meets his new neighbors (Tim Robbins, Joan Cusack), overly friendly people who he soon suspects of being terrorists themselves. Mark Pellington directed this 1999 thriller.



Kyle Secor
CITY OF ANGELS

City of Angels

8 p.m. on CBS

Dr. Chanley (Paula Newsome) is in big, big trouble. She's operated on the wrong person, a mistake that will change the patient's life forever and cost the hospital a fortune. Dr. Stewart (Kyle Secor) tries his best to keep the administration from making Chanley the fall guy, but when his efforts fail, he walks. Drs. Syphax and Jackson (Tamara Taylor, T.E. Russell), on the other hand, are riding, taking the hospital's mobile diagnostic unit out to the people.

Will & Grace

8 p.m. on NBC

Superstar singer and Oscar-winning actress Cher makes a cameo appearance as herself in "Gypsies, Tramps and Weed," giving her No. 1 fan, Jack (Sean Hayes), the thrill of a lifetime. Will (Eric McCormack) gets a shock of his own when he redeems a gift certificate for a psychic reading and hooks up with a fortuneteller whose knowledge of him is so detailed it's scary.

Friday's Best Bets

Movie: Office Space

5:30 p.m. on MAX

A corporate cubicle drone (Ron Livingston) emerges from a hypnotherapy session gone awry with a new couldn't-care-less attitude toward work. Soon he's in line for promotion, while his two best office buddies are targeted for the ax. The trio retaliates with a revenge prank guaranteed to delight any bored worker. Jennifer Aniston, Ajay Naidu, David Herman and Gary Cole also star in this dead-on satire written and directed by Mike Judge ("King of the Hill") and loosely based on his "Milton" cartoons from "Saturday Night Live." Stephen Root ("NewsRadio") plays Milton.

The Beatles Revolution

7 p.m. on ABC

Their reign, at least in the United States, was only six years, but that was long enough for the Beatles to make a lasting imprint on music and on millions of hearts and minds. In this special, more than 40 famous folks explain how the Beatles' music shaped their lives and the world at large. And the makeup of the list is testament to the wide range and longevity of the Fab Four's influence: from fellow icons of the 1960s (author Ken Kesey, actress-model Twiggy, musicians Keith Richards and Mike Love) to such thoroughly modern figures as Internet entrepreneur Jeff Bezos, fashion designer Tommy Hilfiger, and pop star Ricky Martin.

The Beatles
THE BEATLES REVOLUTION

Providence

7 p.m. on NBC

While trying to help a troubled teen whose mother is giving him Ritalin for all the wrong reasons, Syd (Melina Kanakaredes) wrestles with a behavior problem in her personal life. It's her new love interest (Rob Estes), who's been acting very uncomfortable as they've gotten closer. Syd is shocked to discover a possible reason: a mysterious blonde with whom he's been secretly meeting. Joanie (Paula Cale) also has a bombshell dropped on her by a boyfriend in "The Unsinkable Sydney Hansen."

Movie: Scrooged

7 p.m. on TBS

By this time next month, you'll be sick and tired of the endless adaptations and permutations of Charles Dickens' "A Christmas Carol," but a mid-November airing is rare enough to be enjoyable. It might also give you a dose of holiday spirit to get you through Thanksgiving. In this version, the Ebenezer Scrooge character is Frank Cross (Bill Murray), a greedy TV executive who figures since he hates Christmas, no one else should enjoy it. But his outlook is changed after a visit from (surprise!) three ghosts on Christmas Eve.

Saturday's Best Bets

College Football
7 p.m. on ABC

The annual intrastate war between Florida and Florida State caps the regular season for both teams and will dramatically shape the Bowl Championship Series standings. Both squads have a great chance to enter Doak S. Campbell Stadium in Tallahassee with just one loss, meaning the loser may fall out of a BCS game and the winner will solidify its position in the national title chase.

Movie: Twister
7 p.m. on NBC

Flying cows have never looked scarier than in this special-effects-laden adventure. A meteorologist (Bill Paxton) wants his estranged wife (Helen Hunt) to agree to a divorce so he can marry his girlfriend (Jami Gertz). This slender plot line becomes irrelevant about 10 minutes into the movie when the three join a team of storm chasers seeking to measure the intensity of several violent tornadoes.

Movie: E.T. the Extra-Terrestrial
7 p.m. on TNT

Steven Spielberg's 1982 sci-fi fantasy remains one of the most beloved films of modern times, with the bug-eyed title alien character and his 7-year-old co-star, Drew Barrymore, sharing the prize for adorability. Henry Thomas ("Legends of the Fall") stars as the little boy who bonds with the stranded alien and helps him "phone home." Dee Wallace and Peter Coyote also star.

COLLEGE FOOTBALL

Walker, Texas Ranger
8 p.m. on CBS

"A Turning Point" continues the Rangers' pursuit of a gang of computer hackers whose crimes don't stop at breaking codes. Led by the brilliant Nolan Pierce (Michael Ironside), alias "The Chairman," they've already carried out several assassinations of federal agents. Walker (Chuck Norris) has one of Pierce's closest associates (James Martin Kelly) in his sights, and the man's accountant is ready to talk. But Walker and company need to act fast; someone wants to keep this bean counter from spilling the beans by any means necessary. Clarence Gilyard also stars.

America's Most Wanted: America Fights Back
8 p.m. on FOX

Attention, fugitives: You can run, but you can't hide from "Fifty States, Fifty Fugitives." Host John Walsh takes the series live for the first time, hooking up with correspondents and cops all over the land and packing a record number of unsolved cases into a single episode.

Several TV favorites dish up a Thanksgiving cornucopia

By John Crook

TVDATA FEATURES WRITER

Cover story

As American families prepare to gather around the Thanksgiving dinner table, several popular network hits plan to dish up a veritable cornucopia of holiday-themed programming throughout the week.

NBC already has served up more than its share of turkeys this season (see "Tucker," "Cursed" and "The Michael Richards Show"), but they certainly do not include "Ed," the consistently endearing Sunday comedy that deserves a Nielsen ratings bounty all its own. In the Nov. 19 episode, Ed (Tom Cavanagh) determines to make another kind of new start by launching a new Turkey Day tradition of his own, but he learns that's easier said than done after he invites Carol (Julie Bowen) and his other friends and their families for an unconventional holiday spread at good old Stuckeybowl.

Over on CBS that same night, Hallmark Hall of Fame's "The Lost Child" has nothing explicitly to do with Thanksgiving, although the first 20 minutes are so soppy you may throw yams at the screen. Stick with it, however, and you'll find an offbeat story about family, as a woman (Mercedes Ruehl) who was adopted without her Navajo parents' permission is restored to her clan.

Elsewhere Sunday, on Fox's "King of the Hill," Bobby feels less than animated about Thanksgiving after John Redcorn levels with him about the history of the holiday.

Monday, Nov. 20, on CBS, Florence Henderson guest stars on a "King of Queens" episode that finds Doug and Carrie (Kevin James, Leah Remini) reminiscing about the first Thanksgiving they spent with her parents. Later on "Everybody Loves Raymond," Debra's (Patricia Heaton) "perfect" parents (guest stars Robert Culp and Katherine Helmond) arrive to spend Thanksgiving with the Barones — and Ray (Ray Romano) overhears a fractious argument between the two that reveals they have a lot more in common with the squabbling Frank and Marie (Peter Boyle, Doris Roberts) than Debra ever will admit.

On Thanksgiving morning, NBC presents its traditional coverage of Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade, followed by a holiday presentation of "It's a Wonderful Life." CBS opts for parade coverage from across the country.

That night, NBC serves up four holiday episodes of its Thursday hits, dominated by an hourlong "Will & Grace" set on Thanksgiving 1985, as Grace (Debra Messing) takes college boyfriend Will (Eric McCormack) home to meet her parents, not realizing that Will is on the verge of making a life-changing personal decision (guess what?).

Earlier that night on "Friends," Rachel (Jennifer Aniston) is delighted when a handsome co-worker joins her for Thanksgiving with the gang, but Joey (Matt LeBlanc) makes things very uncomfortable with an ill-timed remark, while Ross (David Schwimmer) insists that he can name all 50 states — sooner or later. Next, Maya (Laura San Giacomo) is ready to scream "Just Shoot Me" when her Thanksgiving dinner is torpedoed by a series of comic misconceptions on the part of her dad (George Segal) and colleagues.

'Murphy' won two Emmys as best comedy

By Taylor Michaels

TVDATA FEATURES WRITER

Pipeline

A recent "Murphy Brown" marathon made me wonder: I know Candice Bergen has a shelf full of Emmys for that show, but did any of the other regular cast members ever win an Emmy, and was the show ever named best comedy series? -R.R. in Lima, Ohio.

Bergen was the only cast regular to actually win an Emmy (five, actually), but Faith Ford (Corky) was nominated five times, and Joe Regalbuto (Frank) and Charles Kimbrough (Jim) once apiece. The show itself was named best comedy series in 1990 and 1992. For the record, Colleen Dewhurst and Jay Thomas won twice for guest appearances, and Martin Sheen also picked up a guest actor Emmy.

Regarding a recent item, I am a broadcaster in the Cleveland market and I can assure you that Paul Harvey did, in fact, pass on that ridiculous apocryphal story about Mel Gibson on his "The Rest of the Story" feature. I was incredulous. I hear all kinds of misinformation on Harvey's regular bits, but he was way off on this one. - Danny Wright, WGAR-FM, Cleveland.

Thanks, Danny. ABC Radio, Harvey's syndicators, did not respond to our request for a comment on this situation, but dozens of other readers likewise alerted me that they personally heard Harvey report this story, which is almost entirely a work of fiction.

If we ever get a response from Harvey, we'll pass it along. Meanwhile, thanks to all who wrote.

On "The Beverly Hillbillies," was Granny's last name Clampett or Moses? -Norma Steinburg, Prescott, Ontario, Canada.

Granny's name was Daisy Moses. She was Jed's mother-in-law, not his mother.

Movie: Santa Who?

6 p.m. on ABC

Leslie Nielsen stars as Santa Claus in a new family comedy that puts a new twist on the "Miracle on 34th Street" story. As in the 1947 classic and its remakes, he's a department-store Santa who's actually the genuine article. But unlike the Kriss Kringle of "Miracle," who knew he was real even if nobody else did, this Claus is clueless, thanks to a fall from his sleigh that left him with amnesia. He'd better snap out of it soon, or there'll be a lot of disappointed kiddies on Christmas morning. Steven Eckholdt ("It's Like, You Know ...") stars as the TV newsman, also oblivious to the old man's identity, who helps him get the store Santa gig.

King of the Hill

6:30 p.m. on FOX

Bobby Hill and Thanksgiving dinner have always gone together like, well, turkey and giblets. But that was before John Redcorn gave his class a presentation on the holiday from an American Indian perspective. Horrified at John's stories of the settlers' treatment of the Indians, Bobby makes his feelings known on Turkey Day by turning down the honor of carving the big bird. Instead, he gives his family a taste of Thanksgiving Indian-style in "Spin the Choice." Mike Judge, Kathy Najimy and Brittany Murphy provide voices.

The Grand Ole Opry: An American Tradition

7 p.m. on A&E

That venerable institution of country music, the Grand Ole Opry, turns 75 this month. CBS airs the birthday party on Thanksgiving, but you can get some background in advance from this tuneful two-hour history lesson, a sort of "Biography" of the Opry. Like an episode of "Biography," this one has plenty of interviews with the subject's friends: an impressive lineup of country stars that includes Barbara Mandrell, Little Jimmy Dickens, Ricky Skaggs, Lorrie Morgan, Porter Wagoner and more. And of course, there are plenty of clips from memorable performances over the years.

NFL Football

7:30 p.m. on ESPN

When facing the Jacksonville Jaguars tonight at home, the Pittsburgh Steelers will be reminded of their first meeting that turned their season around. The Steelers were reeling at 0-3 when they marched into Jacksonville on Oct. 1 and won 24-13, racking up 209 yards on the ground and surrendering only 26. Coach Bill Cowher's team then won its next five games. On the flip side, the Jags can attribute their losing season thus far to excess — allowing too many sacks and committing too many turnovers.

Talk is riding the comeback track

Talk the Talk

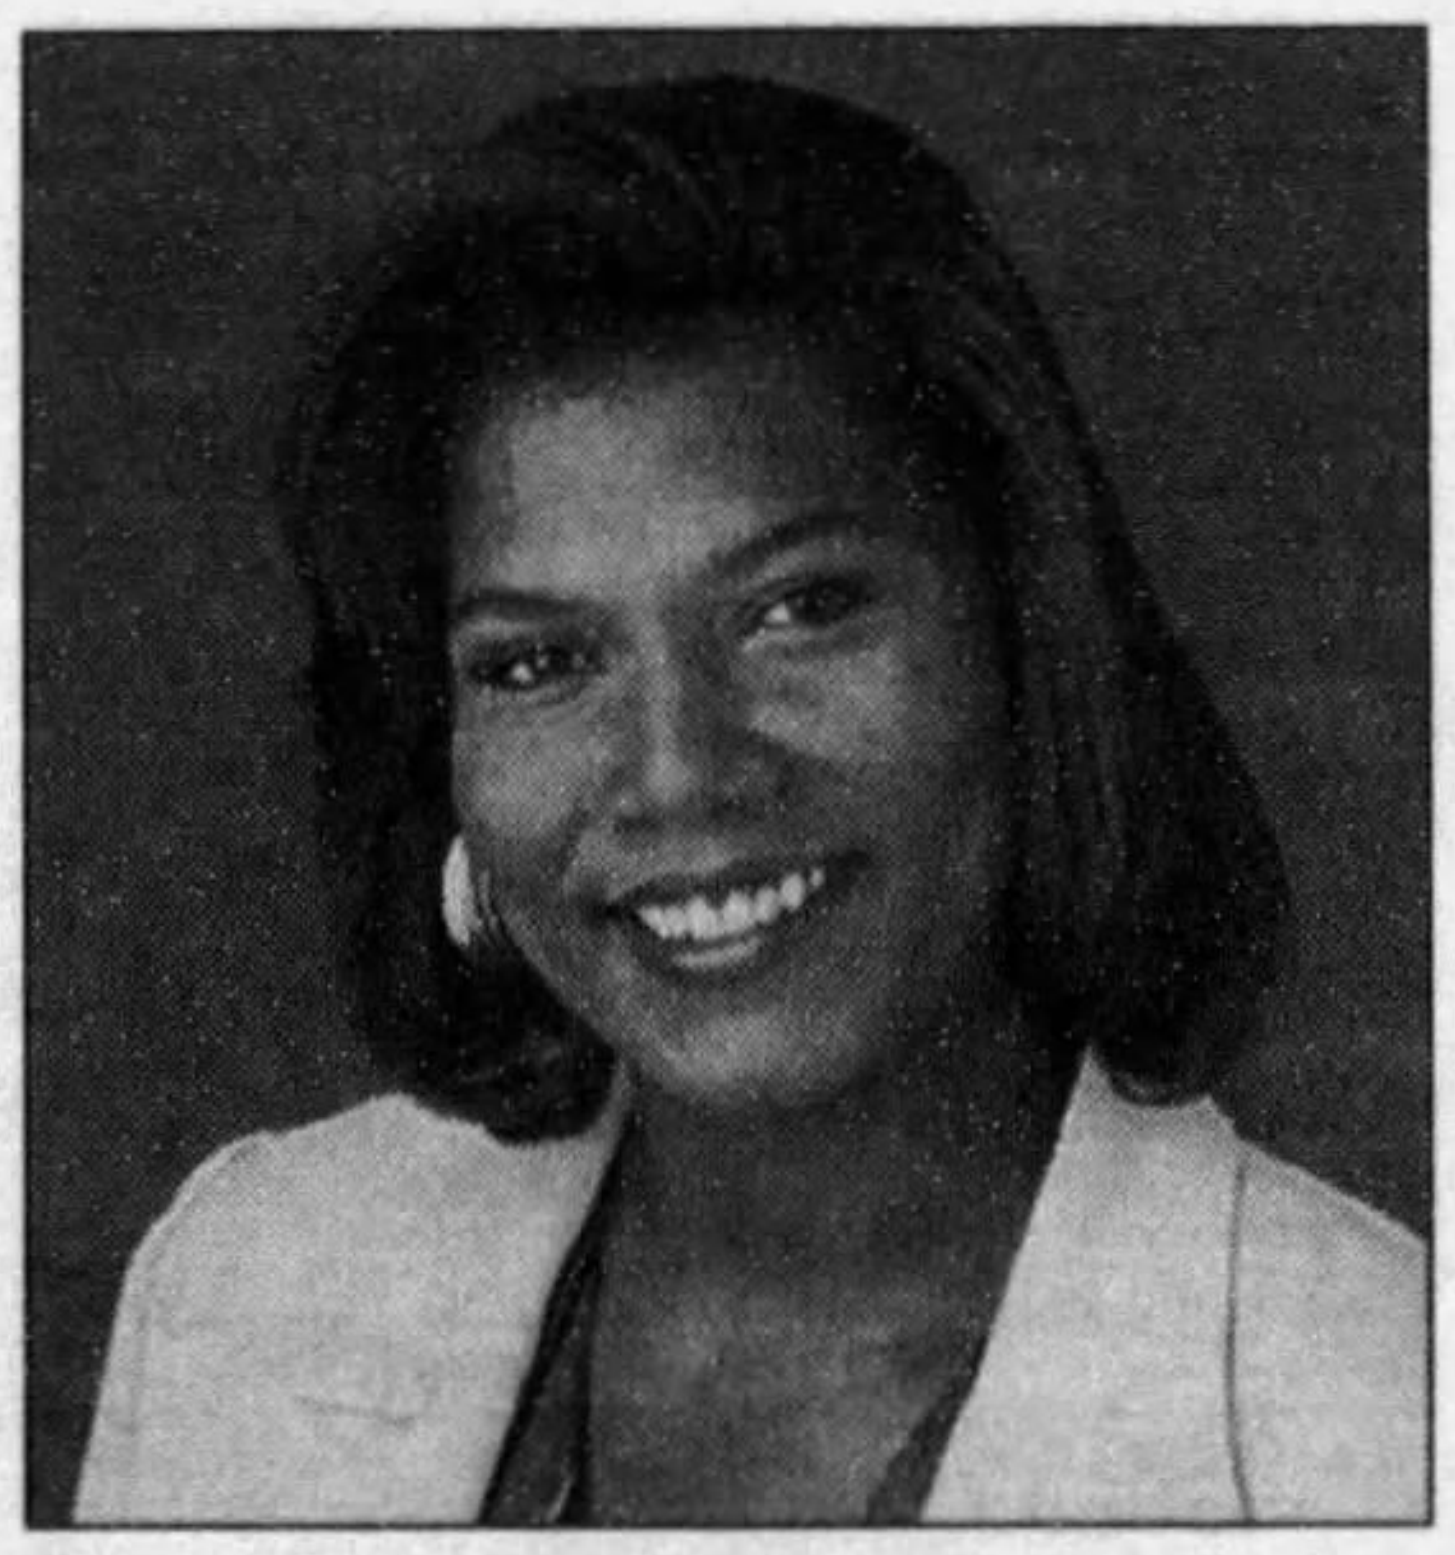
The new talk season has barely had time to blossom, and new seeds are already being sown for next fall.

Insiders are predicting 2001 will be the year talk television makes a comeback. After several years of gabfest newcomers turning in bargain-basement ratings, and even big name celebrity hosts ending up on the cancellation heap, many people have wondered if the days of TV chat are over.

Everyone has been jumping on the reality, game and court show bandwagons, avoiding talk. With only one of last year's rookies still on the air — Queen Latifah — producers offered a mere smattering of talk this fall, including radio host Dr. Laura Schlessinger's show and "Men Are From Mars, Women Are From Venus," helmed by Cybill Shepherd.

Now it seems the pendulum is swinging back to talk. No fewer than 16 potential talk shows are being developed for next year, shocking even seasoned TV executives, who aren't quite sure what's going on. Some sources point to the narrow audience targets of the fledgling shows. Each new offering will aim for a specific piece of the demographic pie instead of a more general audience.

Men, beware. You appear to be the "most wanted" audience. Radio personality Tom Leykis has a show in the works, described as a vehicle for men to reveal what they really think. Twentieth Television is developing a project once called "The Real Deal," billed as a "talk show with a male attitude on women's issues." So far, co-hosts who have signed on the dotted line include actor Alan Thicke, NBA great Reggie Theus, comics Kevin Meaney and Michael Richards, and game show host Marianne Curan. Not to be left in the dust, NBC is working on a male version of ABC's "The View," possibly to be named "The Other View.""



Queen Latifah

Back on the home front, a couple of recent Rosie O'Donnell guests warmed audience hearts with stories of family dedication. Actor Denzel Washington told the story of the surprise party he threw for his wife, which included Roberta Flack singing "The First Time Ever I Saw Your Face," then continued talking about his ever-supportive mom. O'Donnell quickly extended an invite to Mother Washington, and a spokeswoman says to watch for her to be cooking or crafting with Rosie soon.

Monday's Best Bets

Movie: The Brandon Teena Story

5:30 p.m. on MAX

The true story that inspired last year's Oscar-winning "Boys Don't Cry" is told in this 1998 documentary, which won accolades at several film festivals for directors Susan Muska and Greta Olafsdottir. It's a raw and often upsetting commentary on sexual identity confusion and the fear — and worse — that it engenders in closed minds. Brandon Teena was actually Teena Brandon, a young woman who believed she was a male trapped in a female body. She began living as a male, reversed her name and courted countless young women. But when she was outed, two men in her Nebraska town couldn't handle the truth. They raped her, and when she reported them, they killed her. A screening of Hollywood's treatment of the story follows the documentary.

The King of Queens

7 p.m. on CBS

On Thanksgiving, Doug and Carrie (Kevin James, Leah Remini) reminisce about a Turkey Day to remember six years earlier. That was when Doug first met Arthur (Jerry Stiller) and his go-go dancer wife, Lily (guest star Florence Henderson). It's a tense day all around, with Arthur hiding in the bathroom, Carrie fleeing in embarrassment and poor Doug wondering how to make pleasant dinner-table conversation. Madison Lanc plays Carrie as a youngster in "Dark Meet."

Dixie Chicks: On the Fly

7 p.m. on NBC

There's nothing like a Dixie Chicks concert, but if you can't get to one, this special is the next best thing. It captures the country trio in concert in Washington, D.C., a two-night stop on its North American Fly Tour. In some ways, the special is even better than a live show, because everyone gets a backstage pass. The hour also includes a peek at the Chicks' movie debut in a comedy short with Andy Dick ("NewsRadio").

Moesha

7 p.m. on UPN

Thanksgiving brings two separated couples together, but not without complications, in "All This and Turkey, Too." Q (Fredro Starr) is back in town to spend the holiday with Moesha (Brandy), but first he wants his engagement ring back. It's not what you think; he wants to pawn it to raise money for a new band. Mo and Khalib offer an alternative, but Q's reaction isn't what they expected. Dee (Sheryl Lee Ralph) is also back in town, and Frank is thrilled to see her, but not so thrilled that their Thanksgiving together will include his father-in-law (guest star Robert Guillaume). Lamont Bentley also stars.

Tuesday's Best Bets

Intimate Portrait

6 p.m. on LIFE

Her offbeat style and personality didn't win her many friends in her blue-collar Texas hometown, but it was just what the mid-1960s music scene ordered. "Janis Joplin" remembers the brash young rocker who gave more than a piece of her heart when she performed, singing with raw emotion and a voice that shattered rock's glass ceiling. Sadly, the emotional release of performing wasn't enough to calm the turmoil within, for which she turned to the drugs that cut her life short. Joan Osborne narrates the profile, which includes interviews with Joplin's former manager and a former band mate.

That '70s Show

7 p.m. on FOX

Donna (Laura Prepon) isn't rattled when she learns Eric's (Topher Grace) gorgeous new lab partner (guest star Marnette Patterson, "Movie Stars") is interested in exploring their chemistry outside the lab. But she can't be quite as accepting when a pair of panties — not hers — turns up in Eric's car. Red faces that scourge of middle age, high cholesterol, and, thanks to Kitty, the dreaded diet.

NBA Basketball

7 p.m. on TBS

The Orlando Magic and New York Knicks, two teams that will battle for the Atlantic Division crown, meet in Orlando, Fla. A scorecard would come in handy to keep straight all the new faces on the Magic. Seven players on the opening night roster were not in Orlando last year, the most prominent being Grant Hill and Tracy McGrady. Both players are fantastic on the perimeter, much the same way Knicks newcomer Glen Rice is. The question for both teams remains: Who will collect the points and rebounds inside needed to win in the NBA?

THAT '70S SHOW

3rd Rock From the Sun

7:30 p.m. on NBC

Already strangers in a strange land, the Solomons find life even stranger in a parallel universe where they're all living in New York. In the two-part tale "Dick'll Take Manhattan," Dick (John Lithgow) is a successful lawyer, Sally (Kristen Johnston) is a newspaper columnist, Harry (French Stewart) is a TV network president, and Tommy (Joseph Gordon-Levitt) is a Not Ready for Prime Time Player. Mary and Don (Jane Curtin, Wayne Knight) are there, too; he's a corrupt politician, and she's a less-than-successful cabaret singer. "Saturday Night Live" regulars Tracy Morgan, Darrell Hammond and Ana Gasteyer guest star, and Richard Belzer ("Law & Order: Special Victims Unit") has a cameo. The conclusion airs next Tuesday.

Wednesday's Best Bets

Biography
p.m. on A&E

Before the purple dinosaur, before Fred Flintstone's neighbor, TV's most beloved Barney was a bumbling deputy sheriff. "Don Knotts: Nervous Laughter" profiles the shy actor who made a career of playing lovable misfits, from Sheriff Taylor's high-strung sidekick in "The Andy Griffith Show" to the original fish out of water, Mr. Limpet. Former co-stars Andy Griffith, Ron Howard and John Ritter are among the interviewees.

Normal, Ohio
:30 p.m. on FOX

Butch (John Goodman) invites the family to Pamela's (Joely Fisher) for an old-fashioned Thanksgiving dinner. But guess who's left holding the platter when her brother goes to a football game with his son (Greg Pitts), leaving her to keep everyone entertained. Orson Bean, Anita Gillette and Mo Gaffney also star in "A Thanksgiving Episode."

Movie: Love Lessons
8 p.m. on CBS

Mick and Sonya (Ronny Cox, Patty Duke), a happy 50-ish couple, are all ready to retire and sail around the world when Sonya discovers a new life stowing away in her womb. She's thrilled to be pregnant at her age, but the last thing Mick wants is to put their plans on hold and raise a baby. The family tension escalates when the couple's grown son (Max Martini) takes Mom's side. Rebecca Jenkins and Donna Hanover also star in this new drama.

Star Trek: Voyager
8 p.m. on UPN

In "Nightingale," an alien vessel on a humanitarian mission is crippled by an enemy attack, and Tuvok (Tim Russ), with Janeway's (Kate Mulgrew) blessing, offers to skipper the damaged ship. But someone needs to bring him down to earth — figuratively speaking — when he goes a little too power-happy. Robert Beltran and Jeri Ryan also star.

Great Performances
8 p.m. on PBS

Mel Blanc gave Bugs, Daffy, Tweety, Elmer et al. their memorable voices, but Chuck Jones gave them life. Can you imagine your childhood without Looney Tunes? Neither can Steven Spielberg, Robin Williams, Whoopi Goldberg nor Ron Howard, and they make their feelings known in "Chuck Jones: Extremes and In-Betweens, a Life in Animation." It's a 90-minute tribute to the venerable animator and director behind 300 classic cartoons, who at 88 is still drawing and has a new character coming out on the Web early next year.

Thursday's Best Bets

All-American Thanksgiving Parade

8 a.m. on CBS

New York's Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade may be the biggest and most famous, but it's not the only one. For those who like a little variety on their Turkey Day morning menu, CBS presents its usual roundup of parades from around the country, including the New York extravaganza with its trademark big balloons.

Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade

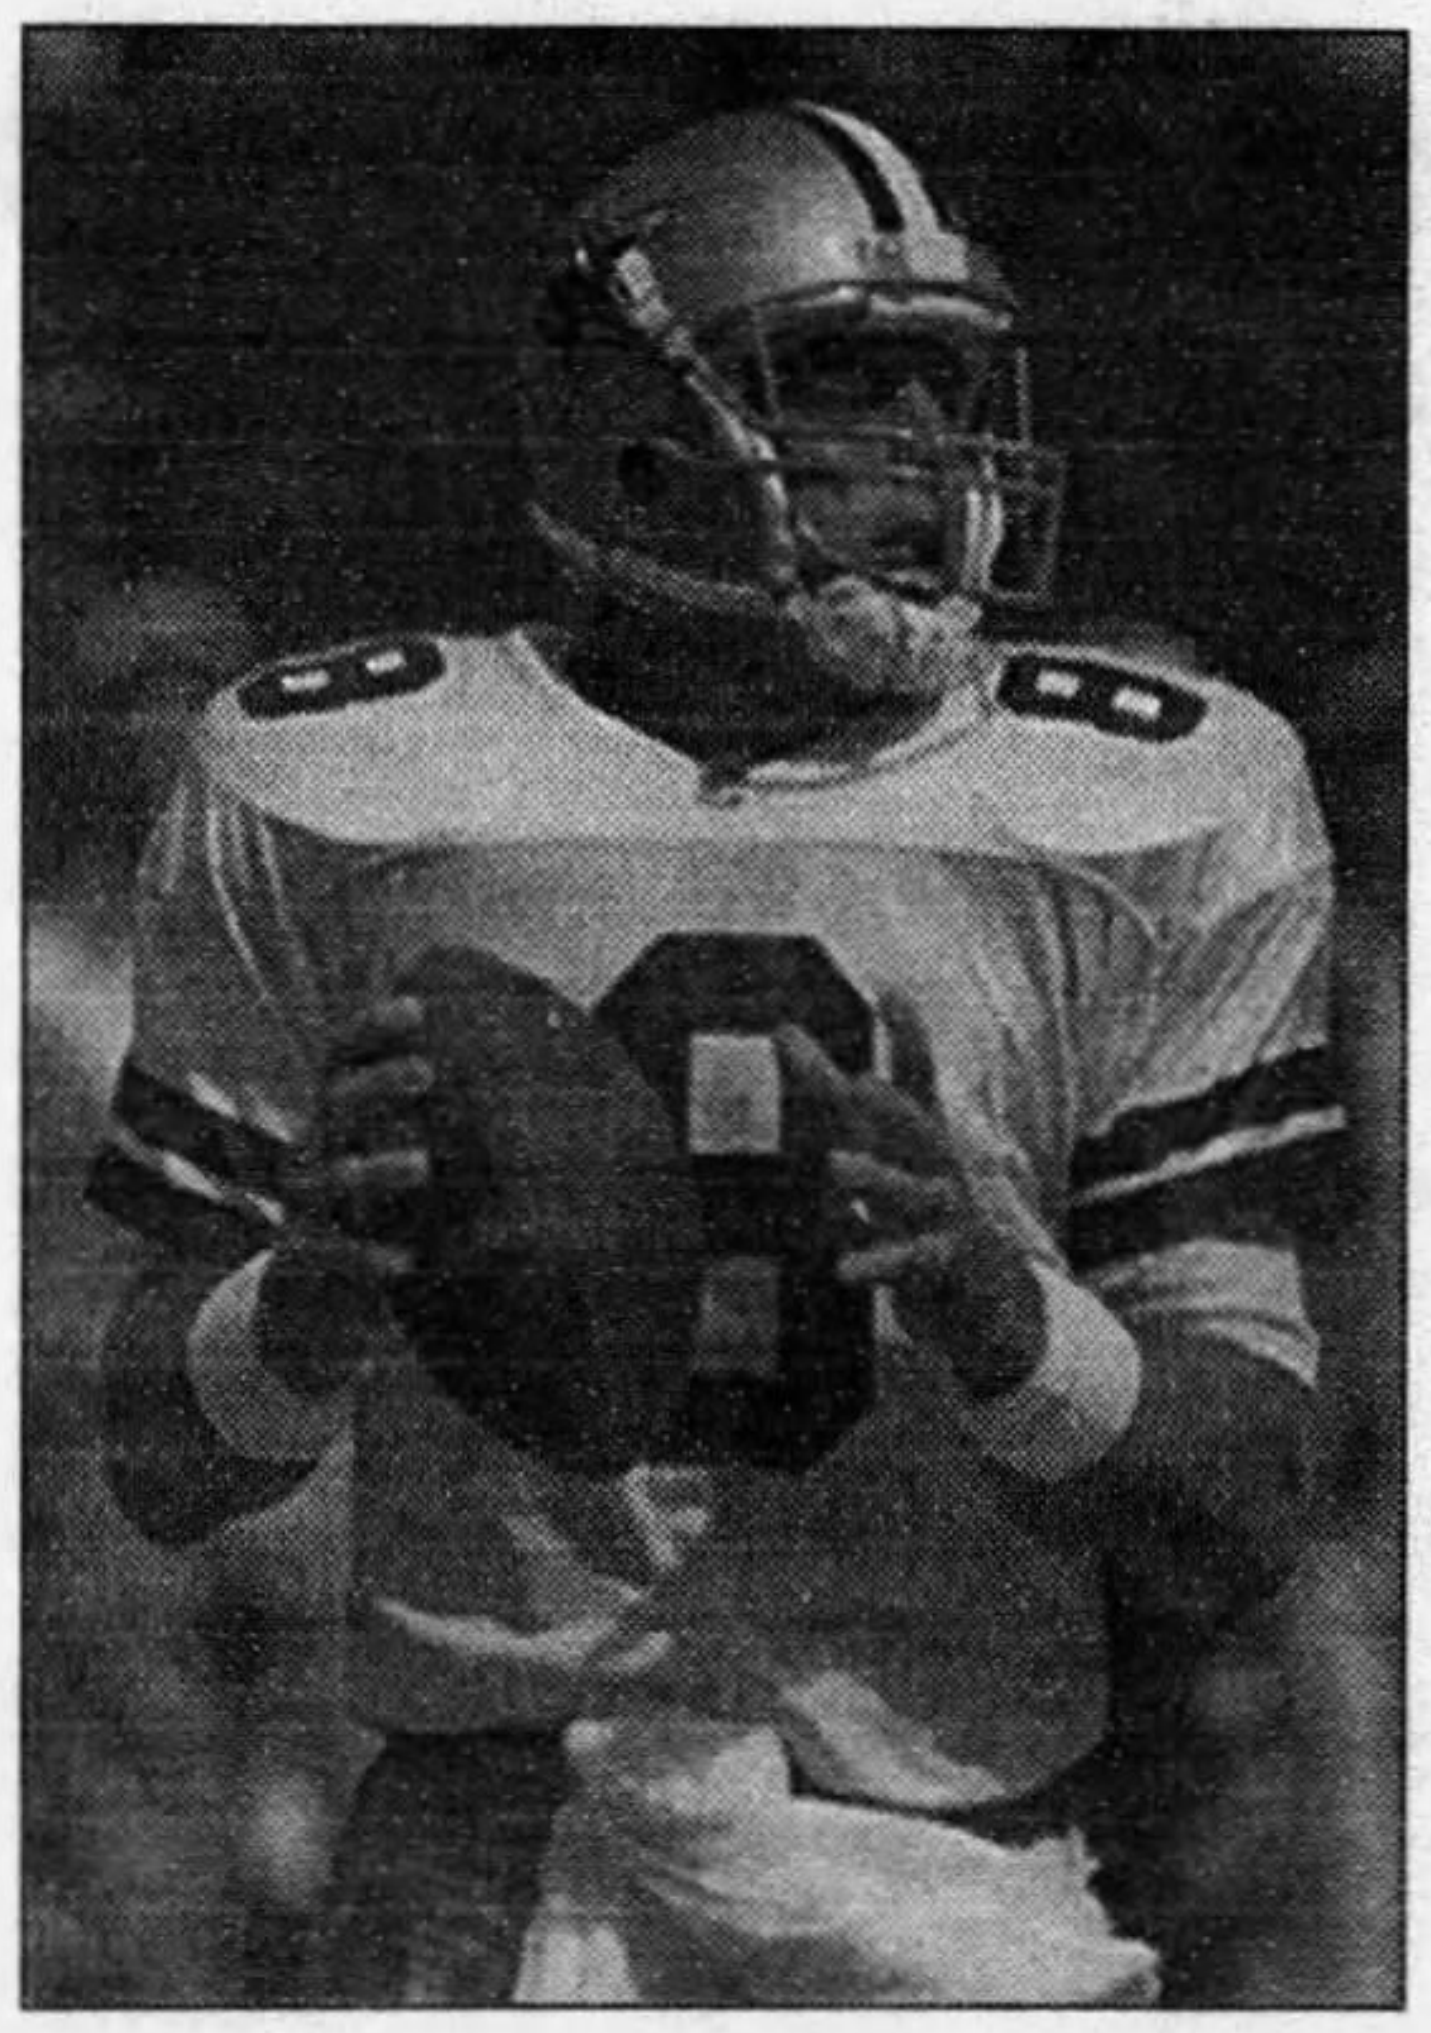
9 a.m. on NBC

The granddaddy of all Thanksgiving parades makes its way down Broadway once again, with the requisite marching bands, stage and screen stars, and those unforgettable larger-than-life balloons. Santa, of course, is the guest of honor, bringing up the rear and kicking off the Christmas season.

NFL Football

11:30 a.m. on CBS

The annual Thanksgiving feast for NFL fans begins in Detroit as the Lions look to take a bite out of Drew Bledsoe and the New England Patriots. An ineffective running game has left Bledsoe a sitting duck at times for opposing defenses, leading to sacks, turnovers and a losing record. Conversely, the Lions' James Stewart, signed in the off-season to replace Barry Sanders, is among the NFC's rushing leaders, helping Detroit toward a possible playoff berth.



Troy Aikman
NFL FOOTBALL

NFL Football

3 p.m. on FOX

The dessert on the NFL Thanksgiving menu features frozen Vikings and cream puff Cowboys served at Texas Stadium in Irving, Texas. Frozen as in the rock-solid Minnesota Vikings, who emerged as the surprise team in the first half with a 7-1 record. Quarterback Daunte Culpepper has made coach Dennis Green look like a genius for choosing him in the 1999 draft. The Cowboys are a shell of their former selves, a team sugarcoated with high-priced aging talent. Future Hall of Famer Troy Aikman has been in and out of the lineup thus far while battling assorted injuries.

Faith!

7 p.m. on CBS

It's just a fluke of scheduling that Faith Hill's first prime-time special is turning out to be an opening act for the Grand Ole Opry's 75th anniversary celebration; Hill is a certifiable headliner. The show was taped over two nights of concerts in Auburn Hills, Mich., and includes a solid mix of her hits, including "It Matters to Me," "The Way You Love Me," "Breathe" and "This Kiss." Hubby Tim McGraw is on hand to join Hill for a duet.

Friday's Best Bets

College Football

11 a.m. on ABC

ABC checks in with a post-Thanksgiving all-Big 12 college football doubleheader, beginning with Colorado at Nebraska. Although it seemed so at the time, all was not lost when then No. 1 Nebraska lost to Oklahoma a few weeks back. A rematch should be on tap next weekend in Kansas City in the Big 12 title game, giving the Cornhuskers a chance to climb back into the national championship race. The second game features Texas A&M visiting Texas. Longhorns junior quarterback Major Applewhite became the school's all-time passing leader earlier this season.

Celebrity Homes

11 a.m. on E!

Want to avoid the malls on the busiest shopping day of the year? Why not take a house tour instead? A six-hour block of the half-hour series that goes behind famous folks' front doors opens with a trip through the abodes of Jane Seymour, Renee Taylor, Adam Goldberg and Richard Karn, to name a few.

Junkyard Wars: Power Pullers

11 a.m. on TLC

Forget football, guys; indulge your post-Thanksgiving lethargy with a marathon designed to bring out your inner Tim the Tool Man. If you're unfamiliar with this British series of specials, each one pits two teams against each other in a contest to build a working machine of some sort from junkyard parts. Then the finished products are put to the test to determine which team did the better job. Tractors are the goal in the opener; stay tuned for flying machines, cannons, amphibious vehicles, land yachts and more.

Movie: The Nutty Professor

7 p.m. on FOX

Eddie Murphy gives his acting muscles — and his physique — a stretch in this 1996 remake of the Jerry Lewis classic. He plays several roles in addition to the main one, an overweight chemist who invents a formula that transforms him into the slim but smarmy Buddy Love. Jada Pinkett co-stars as the object of his affection. The film won an Oscar for makeup.

Movie: The Man Who Knew Too Much

7 p.m. on AMC

While vacationing in Morocco, a doctor and his wife (James Stewart, Doris Day) befriend a mysterious Frenchman (Daniel Gelin), who is stabbed in the public square and whispers a terrible secret to the doctor before he dies: A political assassination is imminent in London.

Saturday's Best Bets

Movie: Blues Brothers 2000

5 p.m. on VH1

Without John Belushi, this sequel to 1980's "The Blues Brothers" can't quite match up to the original, but it does have a stellar lineup of real musicians in cameo roles, including Isaac Hayes, Eric Clapton, Bo Diddley, Erykah Badu and James Brown. Dan Aykroyd reprises the role of Elwood Blues, newly sprung from prison and aiming to get his band back together, win a competition and save a children's hospital. With a young orphan named Buster (J. Evan Bonifant) as his new sidekick, he dodges the Russian mob, a militia and other obstacles on his cross-country trek.

Movie: Jingle All the Way

7 p.m. on ABC

A busy dad goes through the jingle-bell wringer to snag an impossible-to-find action figure for his son. Arnold Schwarzenegger, Rita Wilson, Sinbad and Jake Lloyd star in this cartoony Christmas comedy from 1996, with Phil Hartman as a lecherous neighbor.

Movie: Jurassic Park

7 p.m. on NBC

Prehistoric DNA is used to clone real, live dinosaurs for a one-of-a-kind theme park. But some fatal flaws in the plan threaten to destroy not only the park and everyone in it, but the outside world as well. For one thing, the big lizards are supposed to be all the same sex, and therefore unable to reproduce, but guess what. Jeff Goldblum, Sam Neill, Laura Dern and Richard Attenborough star in this 1993 sci-fi blockbuster, with Wayne Knight as an unscrupulous employee who gets his gruesome comeuppance for trying to smuggle the precious material out of the park.

JINGLE ALL THE WAY

Biography

7 p.m. on A&E

"Howard Carter: Triumph & Treasure" profiles the man who made one of the great archaeological discoveries of the 20th century: the tomb of Egypt's King Tutankhamen. The son of an artist, he sailed for Egypt at age 17 to serve as a tracer — a copier of drawings and inscriptions — on archaeological expeditions, developing into a skilled archaeologist himself. Backed by a patron named Lord Carnarvon, he soon had the chance to undertake the search for the largely unknown Tutankhamen's tomb, a longtime passion. After several fruitless seasons, he unearthed the treasure in 1922. But the demise of Lord Carnarvon from pneumonia shortly afterward, along with the deaths of several other people connected with the expedition, fueled rumors of a curse on the tomb, casting a pall over Carter's success.

Danza's 'Family Law' character champions the underdog

By Jacqueline Cutler

TVDATA FEATURES WRITER

Cover story

Tony Danza is fiddling around with his cell phone headset. His hands need to be free so he can get a manicure.

Yes, Tony Danza, the tough guy, is getting his nails done. Considering he used to be a contender – Golden Gloves middleweight – who'd tease him? Besides, Danza gets only the best. His manicurist for the past 20 years also does Barbra Streisand's perfect nails.

That's the thing about Danza. People expect a one-dimensional character who can do little more than shout, "Yo" – with meaning, of course. But Danza is political, has a bachelor's degree in history education, tap dances around the country in a one-man revue and, as a proud papa, has some very definite opinions about what's good for children (Britney Spears' fashions aren't).

Danza also has a new role. He plays Joe Celano on "Family Law" Mondays on CBS. This represents a delightful change for him: He's not playing a lovable dimwit named Tony on a sitcom.

"(Joe's) mother was a union organizer, and my mother was an office manager; no Norma Rae, her," Danza says. "His mother was killed organizing a union, and because of that upbringing, he is very, very concerned with the little guy. He'll do almost anything for the little guy – anything being the operative word – in the service of a good cause.

"It is an interesting thing for me because it mirrors my own political journey," he explains. "I went to school in the '60s and '70s, and you start out as a radical left-winger. Then you make a little money in the late '70s and '80s, so you start to get very conservative. Then, you start to have kids, and you become the liberal who was mugged. And now, with the onslaught of unfettered globalization, American companies are no longer really American companies, and nobody is feeling much allegiance. It's the bottom line. I worry about the little guy."

Celano's father, like Danza's, was a sanitation worker. Observing his parents' unflagging work ethic taught him the same. Danza grew up on Picken Avenue, under the El, and attended parochial, then public schools before the family left Brooklyn for Malverne on New York's Long Island. "My family used to move en masse," he says, so aunts, uncles and cousins always surrounded him.

Then he left this cocoon for college in Iowa. "Holy cow, it was another planet," Danza says. There, he worked on a farm. "Work is work," he says. And after, he moved furniture for North American Van Lines. "That was hard," he recalls. But after college, Danza realized he wasn't ready to teach school.

"I will admit I was an adolescent well into my 20s," he says, while those in his office rib the 49-year-old that the description still fits. He was working different jobs when a friend entered him in the Golden Gloves. He trained at the famous Gleason's Gym and sparred with, among others, Roberto Duran. A TV producer spotted him and asked him to read for "Taxi."

"I'll tell you how naive I was," he says. "I was reading with Mandy Patinkin, who was reading for Judd Hirsch's role, and (Jim) Brooks said, 'I love your work.' And I'm thinking, 'What work? Did I sweep?' "

Willingham left 'Walker' for politics

By Taylor Michaels

TVDATA FEATURES WRITER

Pipeline

On Oct. 28, we watched the funeral of C.D. Parker on "Walker, Texas Ranger." Did the actor really die, or why was he written out of the show? -Ken & Phyllis Brierly, Casa Grande, Ariz.

A CBS publicist says Noble Willingham left the show several months ago to run as a Republican candidate for a U.S. congressional seat from Texas (he lost to the Democratic incumbent). In keeping with rules governing equal airtime for candidates, he could not continue to appear on the show while running for office.

I remember a '70s show on ABC (I think) called "Get Christie Love" about a black detective or cop. Who was the leading lady on that show? My friends think I am making this up. -T.K. via e-mail.

"Get Christie Love" was a 1974-75 ABC action series starring Teresa Graves as a much-in-demand undercover cop from the Los Angeles Police Department's Special Investigations Division. She earned a Golden Globe nomination, but the show was canceled after one season.

Although she first earned attention gyrating in a bikini on "Rowan & Martin's Laugh-In," Graves later began to turn down roles because of her religious convictions and left show business altogether not long after the series.

What can you tell me about two '60s sitcoms I dimly remember, "Hank" and "The Good Guys"? -C. Snow, Ludlow, Vt.

"Hank" (NBC, 1965-66) featured likable comic Dick Kallman as Hank Dearborn, a resourceful orphan so determined to get a college education that he became a "drop-in," going to classes in a variety of disguises and pretending to be students he knew would be absent that day. He was constantly chased by Dr. Lewis Royal (Howard St. John), the school registrar determined to nab this class phantom.

Sunday's Best Bets

Movie: Kramer vs. Kramer

12 p.m. on USA

A Meryl Streep minimarathon kicks off with this 1979 drama, for which she won her first Academy Award. Dustin Hoffman also took home an Oscar for his portrayal of a single dad whose bond with his 7-year-old son is disrupted by the return of Mom (Streep).

Movie: Titanic

6 p.m. on NBC

This 1997 drama's title describes not only its subject, but its impact on filmdom that year. It made megabucks and ruled the Oscars, garnering a whopping 11 of those little gold guys. Not bad for a movie whose ending everyone knew ahead of time! Kate Winslet and Leonardo DiCaprio star as the unhappy bride-to-be from first class and the scrappy kid from steerage who find each other on the doomed liner. The ship, of course, is the real star of the show, especially in those eye-popping scenes of its destruction. Billy Zane and Kathy Bates also star, with Gloria Stuart as Winslet's character grown old.

Movie: Thin Air: A Spenser Mystery

7 p.m. on A&E

It's all Spenser, all the time, with back-to-back TV movies starring Joe Mantegna as author Robert B. Parker's beloved Boston private eye. First, Spenser's on the trail of a missing young bride with a mysterious past. He must get past a variety of interesting characters, from burned-out police to megalomaniac gang leaders, to find his man: an obsessed madman who sees no reason why he can't just take what — or whom — he wants. Marcia Gay Harden, Luis Guzman and Yancy Butler also star.

Gillian Anderson
THE X-FILES

The X-Files

8 p.m. on FOX

Scully (Gillian Anderson) is flying solo in "Roadrunners," investigating a mysterious murder in New Mexico. The probe leads her to an isolated desert town that's home to a cult harboring a frightening secret. When Scully finds out what that secret is, it'll take her new partner, Doggett (Robert Patrick), to get her out alive ... assuming he can find her. Mitch Pileggi also stars.

Masterpiece Theatre

8 p.m. on PBS

"All the King's Men" is a moving dramatization of one of the great mysteries of World War I: What happened to the volunteers from the king's own estate who disappeared into the mist at the ill-fated battle of Gallipoli? Some say they were carried into heaven, but only one man knows the truth ... and he's not telling. David Jason ("A Touch of Frost") and Maggie Smith star.

Springercam: giving new meaning to the phrase 'there's no place like home'

By Lorri Antosz Benson

TVDATA FEATURES WRITER

Talk the Talk

Have you ever wondered where talk show host Jerry Springer comes up with his offensive, scandalous guests? Have you thought they were too outrageous to be true? Well, this season you'll have the opportunity to see for yourself.

Along with a new look for the "Jerry Springer Show," this season introduces Springercam, a camera that goes right into the guests' homes so you can see these charmers in their natural environments. Step aside, "Big Brother"; Springercam brings reality television to a new level. And it just might be more information than we want to know.

Springer, in the meantime, has been busy with many other endeavors besides hosting what he has called the "stupidest show on television." Last month, he joined an elite club that includes the likes of Henry Kissinger, John F. Kennedy and countless other esteemed politicians and celebrities when he spoke at Harvard. He delivered his speech to a standing-room-only crowd, and students had to be turned away at the door. He was invited to return and speak at Harvard's Kennedy School of Government — an invitation he can't refuse.

"He loves it," according to his spokeswoman, Linda Shafra. "He's been to Carnegie Mellon, Northwestern. ... He loves speaking at colleges." There you have it, university students: Invite Jerry to your school, and there's a good chance he'll accept.

Jerry Springer

Speaking of youth, Springer co-hosted MTV's "Say What? Karaoke" finals earlier this month and had a blast. Picture this: He got up and sang the Offspring's "Pretty Fly (for a White Guy)," a performance definitely worth seeing.

Tuesday's Best Bets

Movie: Casper's Haunted Christmas

7 p.m. on USA

Halloween isn't the only holiday when ghosts walk; remember Ebenezer Scrooge's callers? In this new animated movie, Casper is under orders from the head ghost, Kibosh, to put a scare into someone before Christmas or be banished. But darn it all, he's just too nice to pull a trick like that, especially during the good-will-to-men season. So his uncles bring in a ringer, Casper's cousin Spooky, to do the deed and save his, um, skin. Brendon Ryan Barrett ("Casper: A Spirited Beginning") and Kathleen Barr ("Dragon Tales") provide voices.

Movie: The Eyes of Tammy Faye

7:30 p.m. on MAX

The deposed queen of Christian television, Tammy Faye Bakker Messner, tells her side of the story in this documentary by filmmakers Randy Barbato and Fenton Bailey. It's a sympathetic but not syrupy portrait of the former wife of televangelist Jim Bakker, whose PTL empire came crashing down amid allegations of adultery, payoffs and fraud. In addition to Tammy Faye herself, the film includes input from her ex; her kids; singer Pat Boone and actor JM J. Bullock, with whom she co-hosted a short-lived secular talk show. RuPaul Charles narrates.

American Justice

8 p.m. on A&E

"Dangerous Medicine?" remembers the 1998 death of little Conor McInnerney of Port Angeles, Wash., who was only 3 days old when he stopped breathing while nursing. He was rushed to the local hospital, and Dr. Eugene Turner, an expert in infant resuscitation, was called. During the long night, a nurse walked in and saw Turner smothering the child. He claimed Conor had been taking his final breaths and he was merely putting the infant out of his misery. But an investigation led to murder charges against the doctor that were later dropped in favor of professional censure. The story doesn't end there, however; six weeks later, the doctor in charge of the emergency room that night killed his wife. His defense was psychosis brought on by the Turner incident.

8:30 p.m. on NBC

Talk about being caught between a Rock and a hard place! In "Losing Judith," Daggett (David Alan Grier) gets the enviable task of being tailed by pro wrestling's The Rock (guest starring as himself), who's researching the role of a Secret Service agent for his movie "1600 Danger Avenue." But he has a tougher task on his plate right now: locating the first lady (Delta Burke), who's missing in action.

Wednesday's Best Bets

Christmas in Rockefeller Center

7 p.m. on NBC

Forget that over-the-river-and-through-the-wood stuff. For those who live in, live near or love New York, Christmas means going over the Triborough Bridge and down the avenue to shop, catch the Rockettes and, of course, gawk at the Rockefeller Center Christmas tree. Gawking season begins with the ceremonial lighting of the tree, which those far from Manhattan can see in this hourlong special. "Today" weatherman Al Roker and actress Allison Janney ("The West Wing") host the event, and Natalie Cole, Marc Anthony, Jessica Simpson, 98 Degrees and Destiny's Child are scheduled to sing. The festivities also include a dance number by the Rockettes and a skating performance by Tara Lipinski.

Biography

7 p.m. on A&E

"Henry Winkler: Hollywood's Coolest Character" profiles the self-described "short Jewish kid" who rose to stardom playing a short Italian greaser. And ethnicity wasn't the only difference between Winkler and his signature character, Arthur "Fonzie" Fonzarelli; the latter was a high-school dropout with a limited vocabulary, while the real Winkler holds a master's degree from Yale and knows his way around Shakespeare. The Fonz was supposed to be a secondary character on "Happy Days," but viewers went, "Heyyy!" and the role grew. After "Days," Winkler continued acting and expanded into directing and producing. Now 55, he's sent the Fonz's jacket to the Smithsonian, but he remains as cool as ever.

Movie: A Perfect Murder

8 p.m. on CBS

A wheeler-dealer who is up the proverbial creek when some deals go bad knows a way to make money fast: by bumping off his wealthy wife. To do the deed, he enlists the one man who can't say no: his wife's lover, who's wanted by the law for scamming other rich women. Michael Douglas, Gwyneth Paltrow and Viggo Mortensen star in this 1998 remake of the classic "Dial M for Murder."

The West Wing

8 p.m. on NBC

A NASA probe is about to touch down on Mars, and President Bartlet (Martin Sheen) plans to mark the occasion with an address to the nation's schoolchildren. But he's hit with a host of crises, including the mysterious loss of communication with the spacecraft. Also missing are a fighter plane and its AWOL pilot. And a Russian nuclear missile has caught fire. C.J. and Sam have embarrassing encounters at a concert: She runs into some job applicants she turned down, and he comes face to face with ex-love interest Mallory (Allison Smith).

Britney Spears: There's No Place Like Home

Biography

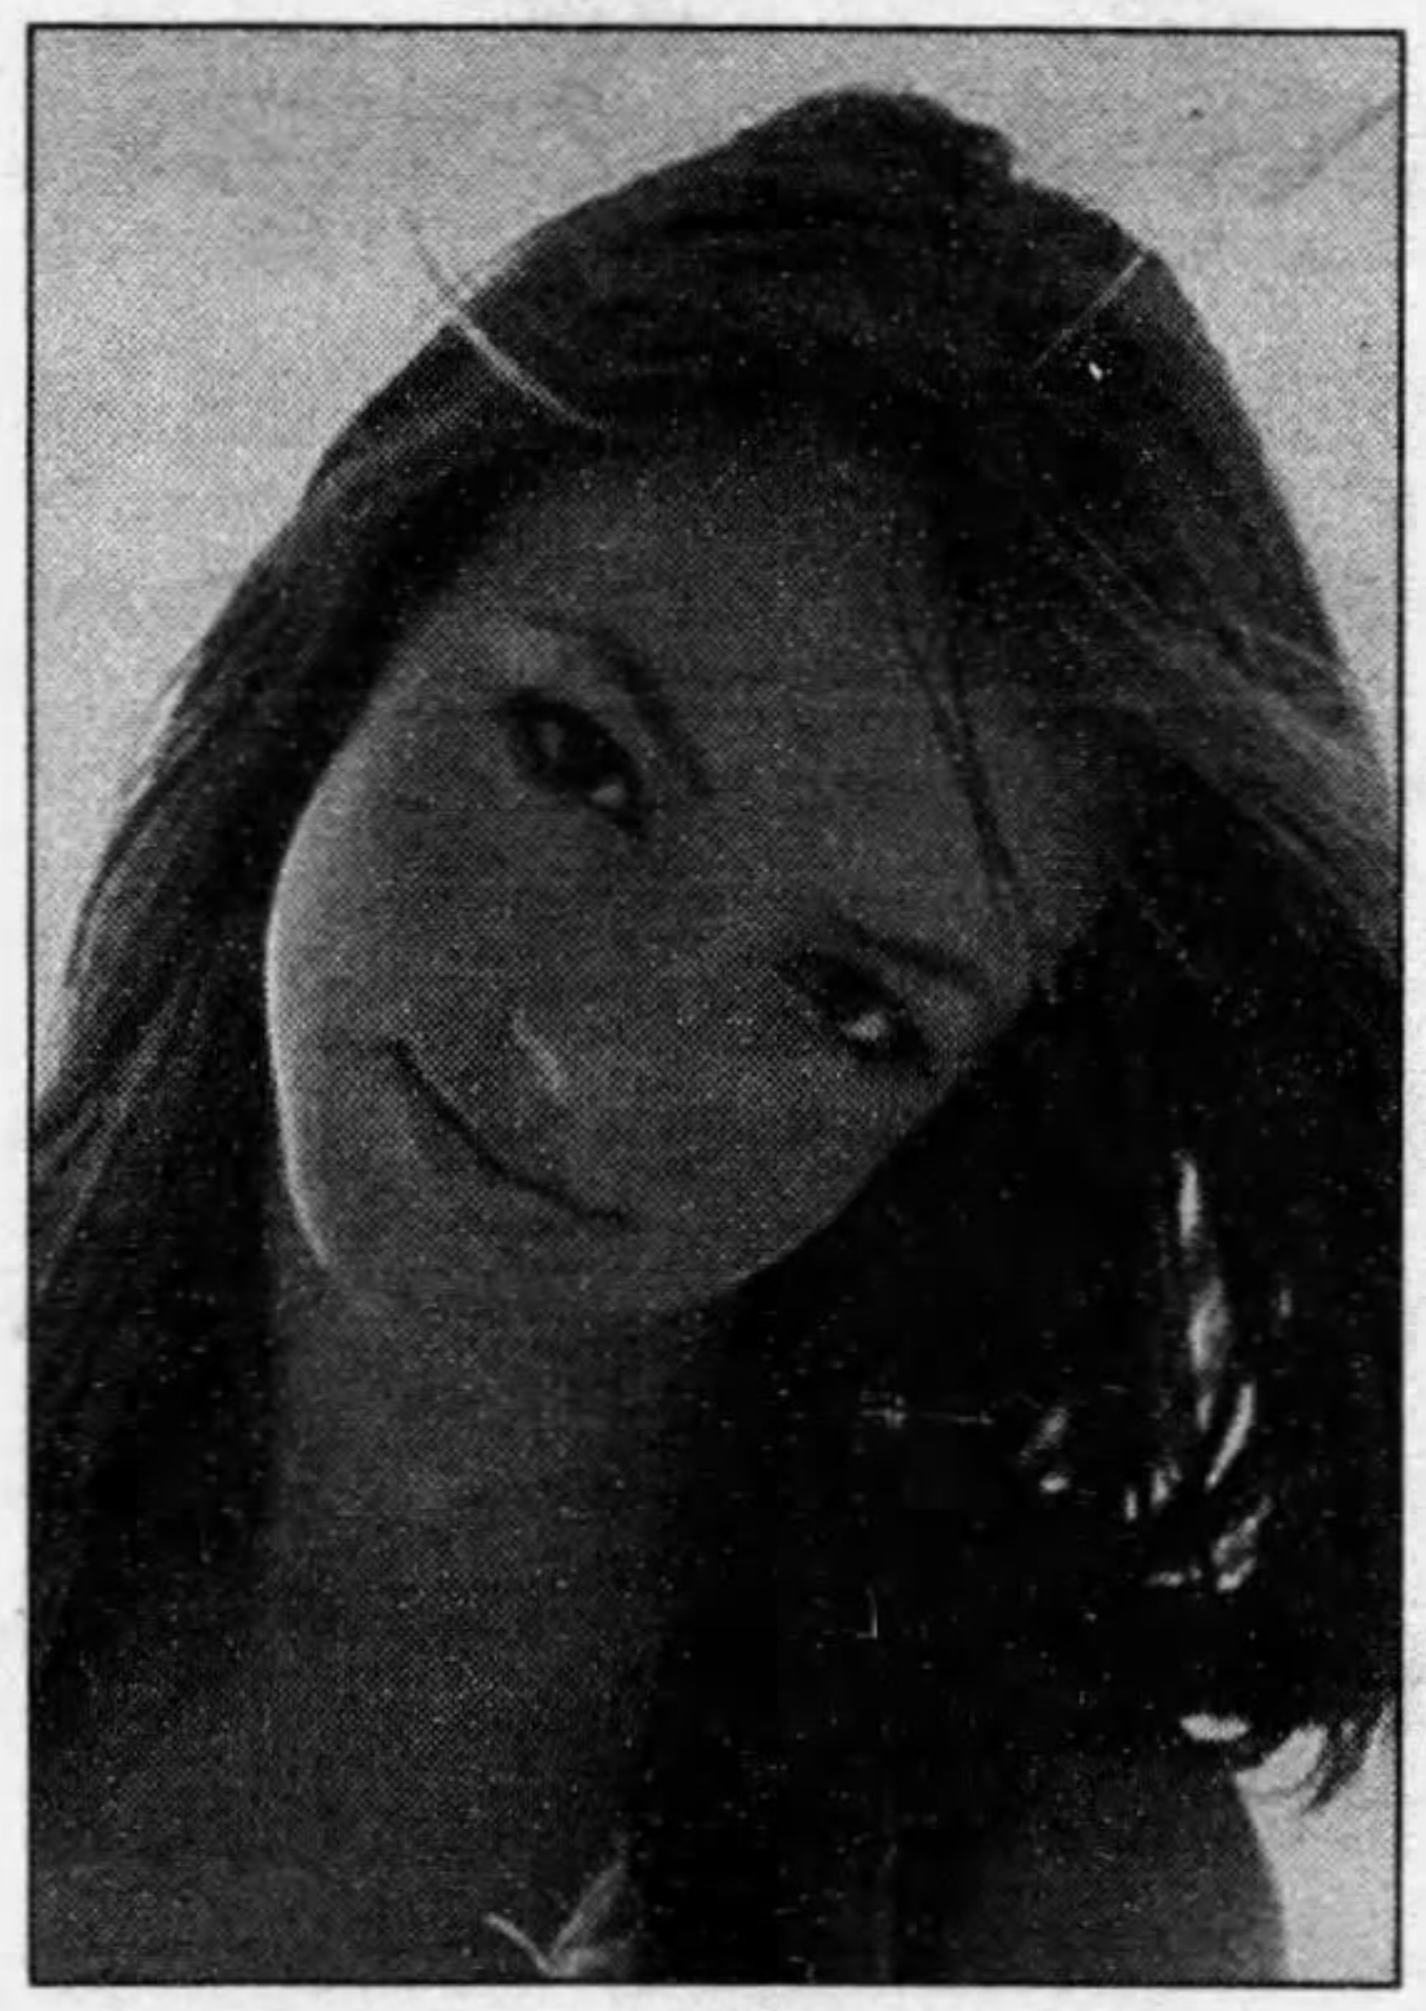
7 p.m. on A&E

"Al Lewis: Forever Granpa" profiles the actor who rose to fame as a cantankerous but lovable vampire in TV's "The Munsters." It wasn't his first high-profile TV role; a guest gig on "Car 54, Where Are You?" was such a hit that the producers made him a regular. But it was his "Munsters" character that stuck with him, and he eventually came to happy terms with his cult-hero status. Two years ago, Lewis, then 88, made headlines as the Green Party's candidate for governor of New York state; he lost, but he got enough votes to get the party on the ballot for good.

NFL Football

7:20 p.m. on ABC ESPN

New Lions coach Gary Moeller gets his first taste of life in the NFC Central when his team takes on the Minnesota Vikings in Minneapolis. Moeller took over for Bobby Ross, who quit even though the team was 5-4 at the time. Moeller's main goal upon arriving was to get the ball to All-Pro receiver Herman Moore, who caught only 19 passes in Ross' offense. The Vikings have no problems passing the ball, especially with Randy Moss on their side. Moss caught three touchdown passes in a win over the Lions on Oct. 1.



Britney Spears
THERE IS NO PLACE LIKE HOME

City of Angels

8 p.m. on CBS

A terminally ill 17-year-old boy (guest star Kenny Blank, "The Parent 'Hood") asks Dr. Turner (Blair Underwood) to delay the surgery that he knows will only prolong his pain. Because he's 17, the decision is up to his parents ... or is it? That'll all change in just a few hours, when the youth turns 18 and can decide for himself; that's why he wants the delay. Dr. Williams (Hill Harper) plans a turkey dinner for the poor unfortunates who have to work on Thanksgiving, but his efforts are derailed when the bird arrives live.

My VH1 Music Awards

8 p.m. on VH1

In this digital age, some awards shows let fans vote for the winners in a few selected categories. But this show is all fan input, all the time; viewers can hop online and vote right down to the wire on who wins. They can also get exclusive peeks at all the action via Webcam.

Friday's Best Bets

Movie: The Ultimate Christmas Present

6 p.m. on DISN

Two Los Angeles youngsters (Brenda Song, Hallee Hirsh) find a weather machine and start dreaming of a white Christmas. But higher on their priority list is a school-closing storm that will buy them some time to complete a difficult homework assignment. But solving their school problem creates a host of other ones for their families, their friends and themselves. They join forces with Santa and his elves to make things right, learning a lesson in the process. John B. Lowe ("Atomic Train") plays St. Nick, and in a bit of nontraditional casting, 6-foot-11-inch basketball star John Salley and 6-foot-6 Bill Fagerbakke ("Coach") play the elves.

Providence

7 p.m. on NBC

Just as Sydney (Melina Kanakaredes) is wishing for a little romance in her life, she meets a very romantic figure: a young Russian (guest star Ariel Joseph Towne) with an artistic gift, an interest in her ... and, sadly, a life-threatening illness. Joanie tries to track down her own mystery man: a fellow in a Zorro costume who kissed her at a party.

Movie: Anastasia

7 p.m. on FOX

While not historically accurate, the story line of this 1997 animated musical film is every little girl's dream: A common girl is transformed into a princess. Meg Ryan provides the voice of the poor orphan who learns, after a series of adventures in the company of two con artists, that she is the lost daughter of Russia's Romanov dynasty.

NHL Hockey

7 p.m. on ESPN

A Russian revolution hits the ice in Sunrise, Fla., when the Detroit Red Wings meet the Florida Panthers. The Panthers, of course, boast the league's top sniper in Pavel Bure, who led the NHL in goals last season with 58. Helping Bure to possibly bigger totals this year is former Red Wing Igor Larionov. The 39-year-old center is the only active player to have won two Stanley Cups and two Olympic gold medals. With captain Steve Yzerman out, the Wings look to Red Army comrades Sergei Federov and Slava Kozlov to pick up the scoring slack.

The Competition

8 p.m. on A&E

Americans love to compete — on the field, on the stage, at the county fair. This new series, hosted by football star-turned-sportscaster Terry Bradshaw, goes behind the scenes of a different uniquely American competition every week, starting with "Child Beauty Pageant."

Saturday's Best Bets

College Basketball
2:30 p.m. on CBS

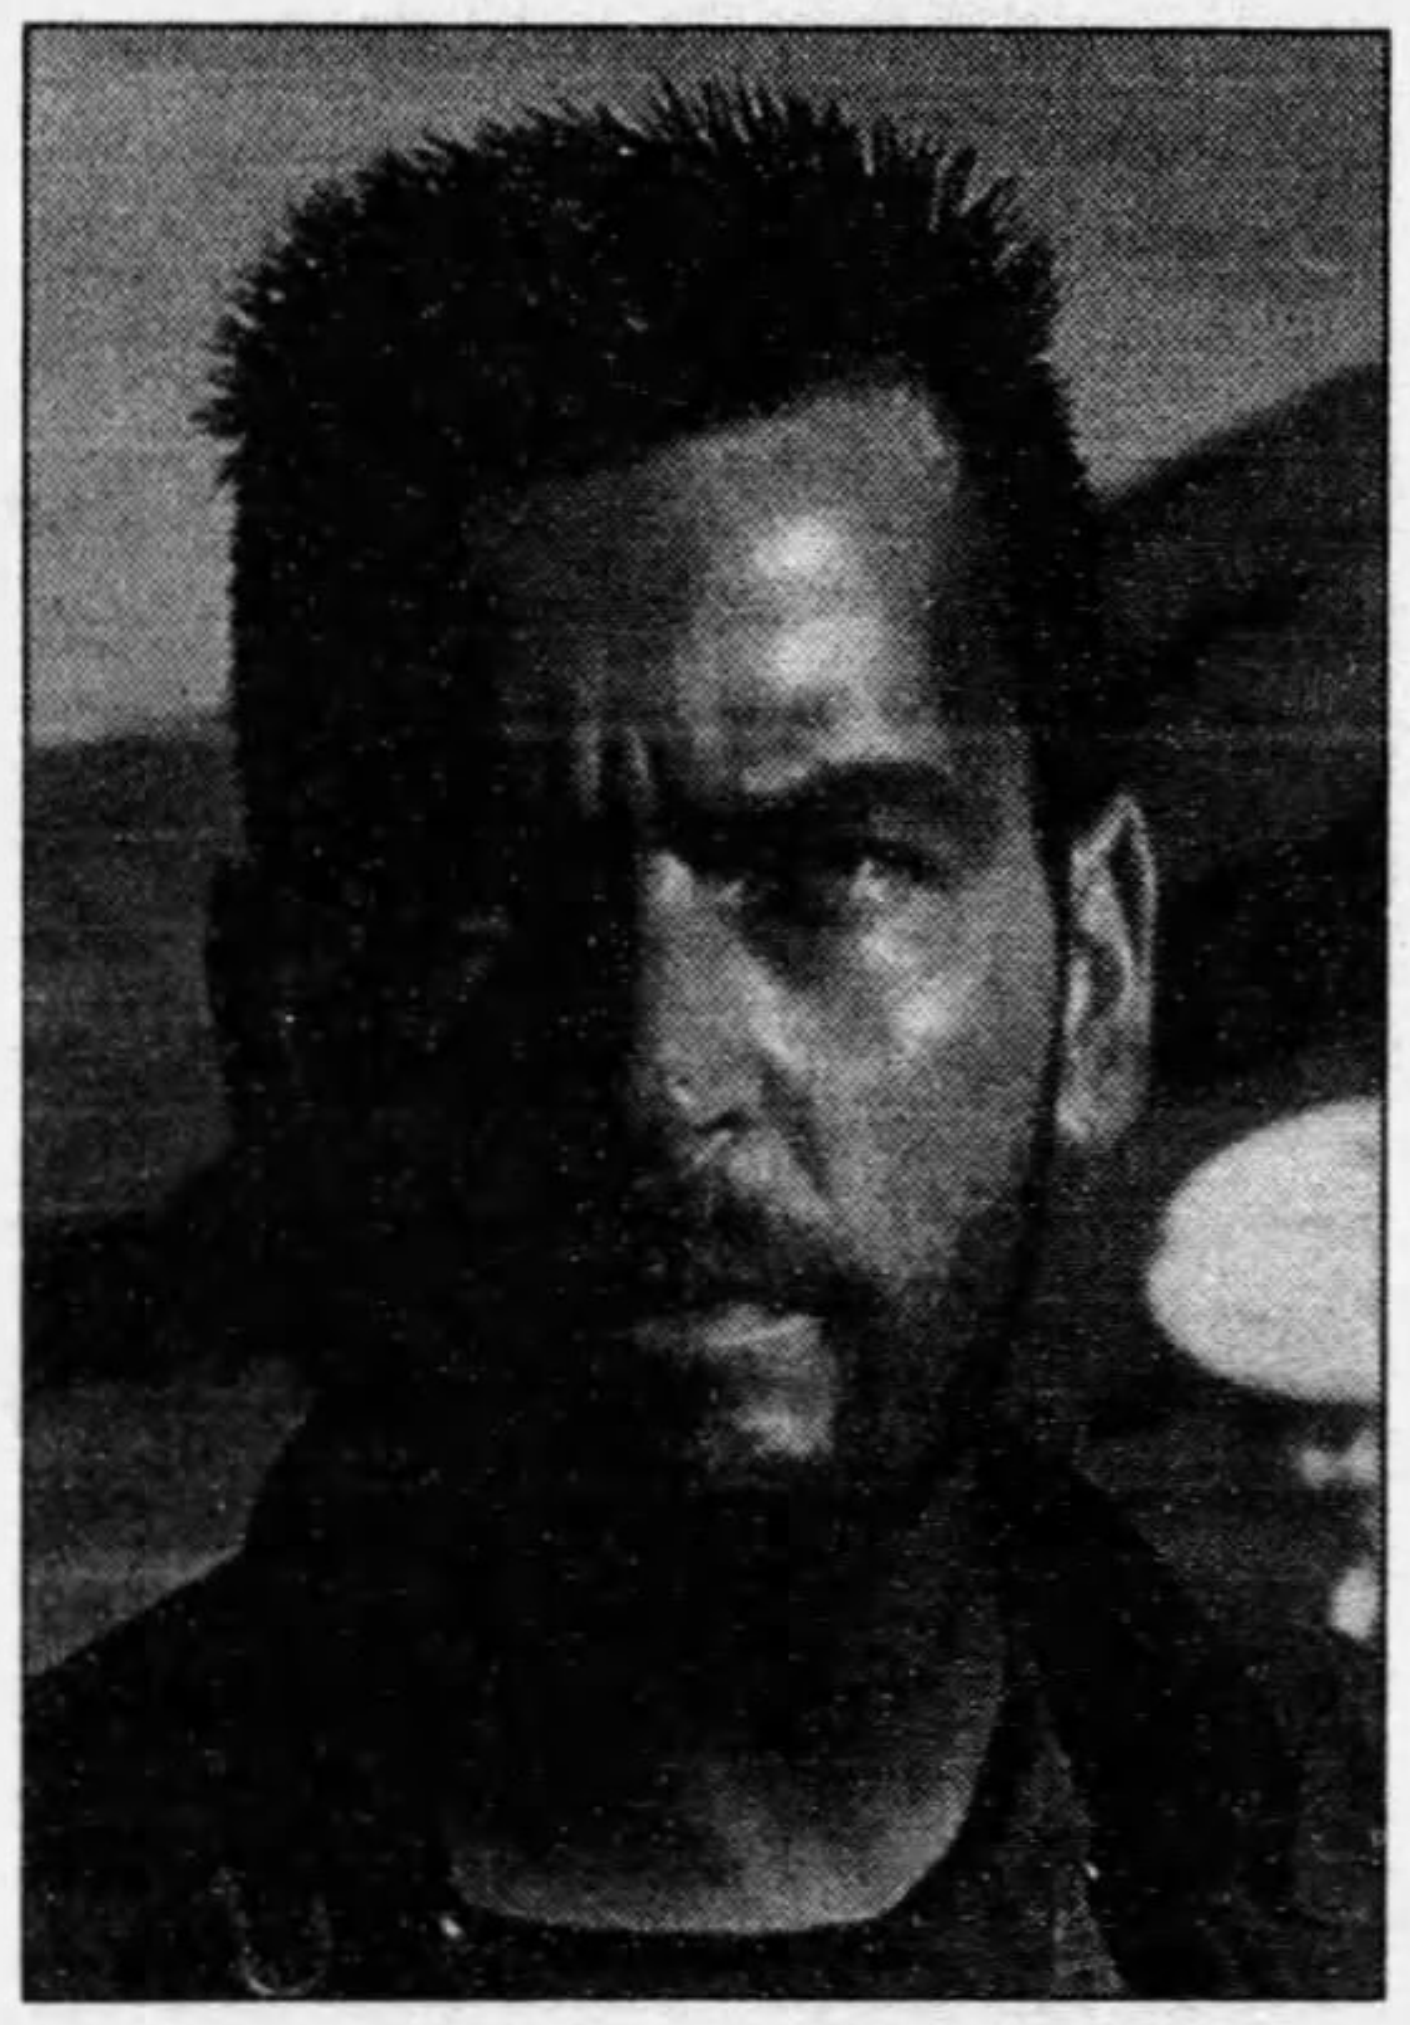
A terrific early-season nonconference matchup pits two highly ranked teams against each other when Kentucky visits North Carolina. The Wildcats come off a 23-win campaign and another appearance in the NCAAs, and should be even better this time around with the addition of freshman forward Jason Parker. In Carolina, Matt Doherty takes over as coach and inherits one of the nation's most talented teams. Seven-foot senior Brendan Haywood heads a tall and athletic frontcourt, and ACC Rookie of the Year Joseph Forte takes over the backcourt leadership from Ed Cota.

College Basketball
6 p.m. on ESPN

The Duke Blue Devils, ranked as high as No. 2 in preseason polls, hit the road to battle the defensive-minded Temple Owls. Led by senior Shane Battier, Duke has all the tools to defend its ACC regular season and tournament championship, and the preseason buzz included coach Mike Krzyzewski's team as a Final Four contender.

Frosty the Snowman
7 p.m. on CBS

Jackie Vernon provides the voice of Frosty, the legendary snowman with a corncob pipe and a button nose. Frosty comes to life when a magician's hat lands on his head. With the help of some children, he heads for the North Pole before he melts. But he is pursued by the magician, who wants his hat back. Billy De Wolfe supplies the voice of the magician, and Jimmy Durante narrates the tale.



Charlie Sheen
THE ARRIVAL

Movie: The Arrival
7 p.m. on NBC

Strange and occasionally deadly things start happening around an astronomer (Charlie Sheen) as he investigates an alleged extraterrestrial signal he's picked up. His quest for the truth leads him to a startling secret about global warming. Lindsay Crouse, Ron Silver and Teri Polo also star in this clever 1996 sci-fi thriller, which was overshadowed at the time of its release by the bigger, badder "Independence Day."

Movie: Stuart Little
7 p.m. on HBO

Michael J. Fox provides the voice of the title character in this charming 1999 adaptation of E.B. White's children's book. A couple (Geena Davis, Hugh Laurie) in search of a brother for their little boy (Jonathan Lipnicki) meet Stuart at an orphanage and fall in love with him, unfazed by the fact that he happens to be a mouse. Despite his size and species, he fits right in with his new family, although the family cat (voice of Nathan Lane) takes a while to think of him as a master, not a meal.
